Workers "Work to Rule" and Cause Tieup of Systems.

LONDON, March 30.—(UP)—A "work to rule" or "go slow" strike of railway workers at two stations in London today threatened to tie up traffic and interfere with the distribution of food. The trouble started at the Broad street and King's Cross stations this morning, when 300 railway men belonging to the minority element protesting against the National Union of Railwaymen's acceptance of wage reductions, began the "work to rule" strike. They succeeded in disorganizing train schedules at the two stations involved and allowed freight cars to remain loaded. When the afternoon shift came on, they refused to go to work when asked to agree not to continue the "work to rule" strike.

President Hoover Loses Sugar Cane for Kiddies

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—President Hoover is shy two bottles of juicy Porto Rican sugar cane. The government took it away from him.

While in Porto Rico the chief executive, thinking of his little grandchildren, and Secretary Huxley, who also has youngsters in his household, decided to bring back some of the cane for the children. It was easy to get two large bottles of cane but agriculture department inspectors at Hampton Roads seized it because they feared it carried tropical plant diseases.

Griffin Sentenced.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP)—George W. Griffin, former treasurer of the L. C. Smith and Corona Type-writers, Inc., was sentenced in federal court today to three years in the Atlanta penitentiary on a charge of using the mails to defraud. He was accused of swindling the typewriter company out of $192,816 from 1927 to 1930.

TARIFF GROUP PLANS HEARING ON ASBESTOS

Alleged Unfair Practices To Come Under Scrutiny of Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—The tariff commission today ordered an investigation of alleged unfair practices in the importation and sale of Russian asbestos in the United States.

A hearing was set for May 10, at which interested parties will present evidence. The investigation was ordered on the complaint of the Bear Canyon Asbestos Company, of Ambler, Pa., and the Regal Asbestos Mines, Inc., of New York city, owners and operators of asbestos mines in Arizona. The complaint charged among other things that methods used in the sale of Russian asbestos in the United States have been such that buyers have been induced to break their contracts.

The complainants said that as a result some of their mines had been forced to close.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Mabel Bartlett, of Fort Pierce, and formerly of Lake Worth, was killed almost instantly at her home yesterday when a rifle in the hands of her brother Gordon, 14, was accidentally discharged, relatives at Lake Worth were notified today.

Edison Stated To Head Club for Aged Persons

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 30.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison, the snow-haired inventive genius, is to become president of the Three-Quarters of a Century Club to be organized here.

The idea for the club, for persons of 75 years or older, was advanced by Mrs. F. R. Thomson, winter visitor from Battle Creek, Mich., and a member of the club there. J. H. Kellogg, of Battle Creek, is national president of the club, which have for their purpose the providing of social entertainment and suitable recreation for persons 75 years old or more.

HOOVER DEFIES SENATE IN APPOINTING JUDGE

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(UP)—In the face of an anti-administration coalition controlling the senate, President Hoover today stepped on one of the senate's most prized prerogatives by appointing a federal judge for Minnesota over the opposition of Blundell S. Smith, D. Minn., a republican, of that state. Gunnar H. Nordbye, the president's choice for the judgeship, will be opposed by Schall on the ground that the nominee is personally objectionable to the senator, a contention which, in the past, usually has spelled rejection of a nomination even when the objecting senator has been a minority member of the minority party. The nomination cannot go before the senate for confirmation until December and in the meantime Nordbye will serve without pay. If not eventually confirmed, he will get no pay for his time on the bench.

BELL WILL INSTITUTE JAPAN PHONE SERVICE

NEW YORK, March 30.—Regular telephone service between North America and the island of Java in the Dutch East Indies will begin on Wednesday, April 1. Voices from Bell System telephones will make the first leg of the journey over the regular trans-Atlantic telephone channels. At London they will be switched to Amsterdam over a land line and submarine cable. There they will go on the air through a Dutch short wave station to be received at Batavia, the receiving station in Java. The transmitter is at Soerabaja. The telephone network of the island which embraces some 30,000 telephones is connected to this radio circuit through the long distance center in Bandung. During certain hours of the day connection will be established through a German station near Berlin instead of through the Dutch station. The overall length of the circuit from New York to Bandung via Amsterdam is about 10,400 miles, and via Berlin, 10,900.

GREYHOUND BUS LINES GET NEW PRESIDENT

Frederick Smith Acquires Interest in New Coach Company.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30.—(AP)—A close-working arrangement between two widespread motor bus lines was forecast tonight with the announcement that Frederick M. Smith, of Memphis, founder of the Smith Motor Coach Company, has become president and general manager of the recently formed Dixie Greyhound Lines, Incorporated.

The Dixie Greyhound Lines, Inc., is a consolidation of Greyhound lines running south from St. Louis, touching points in Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama. Smith Motor Coach centers its operations here with lines to Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois and other states.

Mr. Smith said a new office and garage building here will house the offices of both lines.

Carl Smith, a brother of Mr. Smith and now operations manager for Illinois and Kentucky, will become vice president and general manager of Smith Motor Coach.

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP)—Frederick Smith, president of the Smith Motor Coach Company, of Memphis, Tenn., has purchased a minority interest in the Dixie Greyhound Lines, Inc., it was announced today by C. E. Wickman, president of the Greyhound corporation. The Dixie Greyhound Lines were recently formed to take over the Greyhound lines from St. Louis to Jackson, Miss., and Birmingham, Ala. Smith was appointed general manager of Dixie Greyhound and will operate the company in conjunction with his own company.

STATE TAKES OVER HANCOCK'S BANK

Albert B. Mobley, state superintendent of banks, Monday took over the Citizens Bank & Trust Company of Jefferson on resolutions by the directors, following the suicide Saturday of Homer Hancock, executive vice president. Mobley placed auditors in charge and said the institution is held for liquidation or reinstatement.

The December 31 statement of the bank gave its loans and discounts as $220,000; total resources, $324,000; capital stock, $96,420; surplus and profits, $21,206; deposits, $122,000, and borrowed money, $74,000.

Hancock was a member of the house of representatives for ten years, and was senator-elect.

RUSSIAN TRADER
ORDERED FROM U.S.

Head of Amtorg Company Faces Deportation by Authorities.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—An investigation of alleged unfair practices in the importation and sale of Russian asbestos in the United States was ordered today by the tariff commission.

At the same time the labor department announced that Feodor M. Zvyagin, general manager of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, must leave the country voluntarily or be subject to deportation. The Amtorg company is the official Russian trade agency.

The tariff commission set a hearing for May 19 at which testimony will be presented. The action results from complaints by the Bear Canyon Asbestos Company, of Ambler, Pa., and the Regal Asbestos Mines, Inc., of New York city, which own asbestos mines in Arizona.

They said they had been compelled to close some of their mines because of the time limit set in his permit to enter the country.

The Amtorg Corporation, and Asbestos, Ltd., Inc., of Millington, N. J., were named in the complaints.

The labor department said Zvyagin's permit as a visitor, which was issued in January, 1930 and extended last July, had expired and renewal had been refused.

"Zvyagin," Secretary Doak said, "is being treated as any other alien who overstays the time limit set in his permit to enter the country."

"He entered the country as an employee of Export Kled, a Russian organization, and after being in this country for some months changed his employment to an American company."

"Should Zvyagin fail to leave the country within a reasonable time, a warrant of arrest and orders for his deportation will be issued."

TAMMANY SETS
HOUSE IN ORDER

New York Organization Has Hurried Shakeup on Eve of Probe.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP)—The cleanup-broom swished furiously today as Tammany hastened to tidy its house against the coming of unbidden guests from Albany, the state capital. A legislative committee is coming to investigate the city from top to bottom.

Dust flew in the tenement house department and when it settled 383 men found themselves in new jobs. It was the most drastic shakeup in the department's history.

William F. Deegan, head of the department, said every inspector in Brooklyn had been transferred to Manhattan and vice versa. Inspectors in the three other boroughs also were affected. Deegan said he had found a shift ever so often was the way to get results.

Mayor James J. Walker, still in California, was reported to be considering changes in two other city bureaus—the department of markets and the board of standards and appeals.

A grand jury began investigating the case of Rollin C. Bastress, Queens republican and chief inspector of the Manhattan buildings bureau. He is accused of taking a bribe from Alderman Walter G. Jones, of Yonkers, a contractor, Jones waived immunity and went before the grand jury.

Manhattan's elderly district attorney, Thomas C. T. Crain, went to court to prevent Samuel Seabury from investigating him on charges of inefficiency and infidelity. Seabury was appointed by Governor Roosevelt.

Crain's counsel, Samuel Untermyer, told a general sessions judge that Seabury was prejudiced and that he was an essential witness in the hearings.

John Kirkland Clark, chief counsel in the Seabury inquiry, countered by declaring the district attorney and representatives "continue a deliberate course intended to delay and obstruct the governor's commission."

Trial of four of the eight directors who were indicted on charges of felony in the failure of the Bank of United States was delayed by the death of Charles H. Morgan, law partner of Charles H. Tuttle, of defense counsel. Tuttle asked the trial be postponed for a day so that he might attend the funeral.

BOWLES AND MISTRESS
FACE MORALS CHARGE

PORTLAND, Ore., March 30.—(AP)—Nelson C. Bowles, Portland millionaire, and his former secretary, Miss Irma Loucks, acquitted of the charge of murdering Bowles' wife, must face a morals charge.

Loren L. Langley, county prosecutor, said today the morals charge will be pressed and he intends asking the maximum penalty of six months in jail and a fine of $500.

Bowles and Miss Loucks were freed by a jury at Hillsboro, Ore., Saturday in connection with the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Bowles in Miss Loucks' apartment here last November 19.

Mass Meeting Hears Call for Removal of Mayor Walker.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP)—Demand that the citizens of New York "haul down the black flag of corruption" was made tonight by Dr. John Hayes Holmes at a mass meeting which filled Carnegie hall and overflowed in the adjacent streets.

Other speakers were Rabbi Sidney B. Goldstein, Norman Thomas, socialist leader, and Heywood Brown, newspaper columnist and socialist.

The meeting, called by a committee originally to protest against the city's handling of the unemployment situation, was broadened to include discussion of vice graft and corruption as revealed by an investigation of the magistrates' courts and police.

Removal of Mayor Walker and permanent banishment of Tammany Hall from the Tammany government were demanded by Dr. Holmes. At this point the meeting took on the complexion of a political session.

"Tammany is at least a fourth offender and therefore liable to a life term," he said. Remarking he had no malice against Walker, he continued: "I would gladly see him happy on the sunny California coast."

He said the mayor's curtailment of his vacation was "in itself a confession of the truth of the charges."

Dr. Holmes said already the building department, the board of standards and appeals and the tenement house department "are being purged in the Tammany cleanup drive" which he termed an attempt on the part of Tammany "as a confessed felon" to win probation.

A crowd estimated as 3,000 filed into the hall as soon as the doors were thrown open. Speakers addressed the overflow meeting outside.

Heywood Brown spoke in a light vein. "I have an excellent job picked out for Mayor Walker," he said. "The job of ex-mayor—and I think he'd grace it. I'd rather go out on a party with Jimmy Walker but I don't see what that has got to do with being mayor of New York."

"I know that all work and no play make Jack a dull boy," he continued, "but I also know the newer adage: 'All play makes Jack for policemen on the vice squad.'"

He said that the citizens of New York must elect someone connected with neither the democratic nor the republican machines. "I am going to keep on voting for Norman Thomas until he's elected," he said.

Rabbi Wise was ill and unable to appear. His place was taken by Rabbi Sidney B. Goldstein.

Norman Thomas spoke on unemployment. Quoting Daniel S. Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, as having said that the unemployment crisis was a reproach to capitalism and that he would "starve rather than starve," Thomas said:

"The president should be compelled by public opinion to call an extra session of congress to authorize an immediate minimum program of half a billion dollars for emergency relief and a three-billion dollar program for public works."

He urged that the state government should enact a compulsory unemployment insurance bill, exclude all children from work, provide state relief and encourage the five-day week.

MAYOR WALKER GETS
COPY OF FILED CHARGES

PALM SPRINGS, Cal., March 30.—(AP)—Charges made against Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, and mailed to him by Governor Franklin Roosevelt, arrived here tonight, but there was nothing unpleasant enough about them to dent the mayor's smile.

He confided to newspaper correspondents he was eager to get back to New York and give the answer which he has promised on his arrival. He starts eastward tomorrow afternoon.

The mayor has been accused of neglect of duty. The charges were delivered as he lounged in the sun of the desert here, dressed in blue and black silk pajamas. While reading the document he sipped a glass of milk.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—(AP)—The ashes of Emory Winship, wealthy retired naval officer, who shot himself to death here March 21, were en route Monday to Macon, Ga., his legal residence.

The ashes, consigned to a railroad company by his attractive widow, Mrs. Dorothy Lamar Blount Winship, were expected to arrive in the southern city Friday morning for funeral rites.

Mrs. Winship and her sister, Miss Eugenia Cuyler Blount, remained in seclusion in the fashionable Winship apartment. Through Miss Blount, Mrs. Winship said she probably would return to Macon to attend the funeral, although she refused to name the day of departure.

Meanwhile bitterness between Mrs. Winship and Joseph W. Preston, Jr., Winship's business associate and friend, heightened. It developed at the coroner's inquest, during which Preston and two others testified to an alleged affair between Mrs. Winship and Ray McGunagle, the family chauffeur.

Preston flung new charges at Mrs. Winship, accusing her of having attempted to hold the ashes of Winship despite the request of Dillon Winship, the naval officer's son, by a former marriage, that they be placed in Preston's possession.

Through Miss Blount, Mrs. Winship was equally bitter.

Mrs. Winship requested $750 advance on the Winship estate from Mr. Preston with which to carry out the instructions left by Mr. Winship before he died," Miss Blount asserted.

"This was refused."

In the meantime Preston and Mrs. Winship awaited probate of Winship's will in Macon, probably Monday or Tuesday. Winship's attorneys and Preston reported Mrs. Winship had been disinherited in the document, which leaves the entire estate to an infant son.

A local newspaper says Miss Blount emphatically denied she had written a love letter to McGunagle or that she and her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Winship, were rivals over the family chauffeur.

The newspaper said Preston disclosed a purported letter allegedly written by Miss Blount to the chauffeur previous to the suicide of Lieutenant Winship.

Preston, life-long associate of the former naval officer, and with him co-executor of the estate of the commander's first wife, said he had a photostatic copy of the alleged letter, ascertained found by Winship before his suicide.

Letter Quoted.

The letter, Preston said, read as follows: "My Dear Ray: Mother mailed me a letter to Palo Alto care Mrs. Jansen about January 20—airmail—and it should have arrived there the 30th or 31st. Will ask Mrs. Jansen for it—or if Dorothy got it, ask her, and send it to me."

"Expect to go to Palm Springs for my health about Friday. Will send you a wire telling you where I'll be—if you still want to write. Thanks for hiding things—letter and telegram."

"Run down to Sherman Clay and get a piece called 'I Surrender Dear'. Think of me when you play it, as I do of you whenever I hear it."

"Mail mother's letter here. Love and ice cream."

"I love your code. I. L. U., too."

The letter was signed with an unrecognizable symbol.

"Utterly ridiculous, utterly preposterous, utterly absurd," exclaimed Miss Blount in denying that she had had an affair with McGunagle or that she had written the note Preston gave to the newspaper.

Jealous Over Chauffeur.

In testifying at the coroner's inquest, Preston said:

"Mr. Winship told me there was trouble between his wife and her sister, Miss Eugenia Blount, due to jealousy over Ray, the chauffeur.

"Mr. Winship told his wife that he had a letter by which he could prove his assertions. Mrs. Winship demanded it and he handed her a slip of paper telling her that she could tear it up if she wanted to, but that he had a photostatic copy of it. She read it and said there's a word of truth in it. He should be ashamed to accuse my sister of being in love with a chauffeur."

"Winship felt that there was much feeling between his wife and her sister caused by jealousy. In my presence she denounced her husband."

"Whereupon Winship said to her: 'Dorothy, you know that Genie is in love with the chauffeur and that there is jealousy between you.' And Mrs. Winship responded: 'Well, if there is, more power to Ray.'"

Mrs. Winship, testifying before the coroner's jury, said her husband's accusations were the result of his "drunken imagination."

Slack disclosed tonight a few days prior to Winship's suicide, the wealthy retired naval officer had made arrangements to provide $300 monthly for separate maintenance for Mrs. Winship and their one-year-old son.

The attorney revealed a letter Winship received from a law firm, which stated in part "Your wife (Mrs. Winship) has consulted us with respect to certain domestic difficulties now and heretofore existing between you. Her desire is that provision be made immediately for the support of herself and your child. Otherwise we will begin such proceedings as may be deemed essential for the protection of her interests and those of your child."

Slack said Winship agreed to pay the $300 monthly. He advanced $200 of the first payment and was to have paid another $100 at the time he committed suicide.

WINSHIP'S WILL AWAITED
BY ATTORNEY AT MACON

MACON, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—Bruce C. Jones, local attorney for the estate of Lieutenant Commander Emory Winship, who committed suicide in San Francisco March 21, said Monday he was still awaiting the arrival of the retired naval officer's will.

He expected the document to arrive from the Pacific coast at any time.

Jones was unable to say whether the will would be filed for probate immediately. Custom in such cases, he said, delays the filing until after the funeral of the testator, and the custom will be followed in this case unless there is some special reason for immediate filing.

He said he would be governed by a letter which he expected the California attorney—for the estate to send with the will.

STORM'S STOCK TOLL
REMAINS IN DOUBT

KANSAS CITY, March 30.—(AP)—Snowfall over a wide area from Wyoming to western Texas, coupled with communications facilities still out of order, combined today to prevent agricultural officials from estimating the damage to livestock of last week's blizzard which claimed 16 human lives.

There were scattered reports from western Kansas of cattle found by hundreds, standing in drifted snow and frozen to death.

Stockmen at Sidney, Neb., estimated $50,000 worth of cattle had perished in that region and reported that 500 head of white-faced steers, owned by Nels Troelstrup, of Denver, had been lost near Julesburg, Col.

Warnings were given to stockmen in Montana and Wyoming in ample time and losses in these states were negligible. Texas cattlemen were hastening to look after their stock on account of the new snowfall but they feared no further losses.

this runs into real money:

Each year the average American family eats approximately ten times its weight in food. It eats about 1329 pounds of fresh vegetables, 111 pounds of canned vegetables, 584 pounds of fresh fruit, 44 pounds of canned fruit, 587 pounds of meat, 371 pounds of bread, 424 pounds of sugar, 74 pounds of butter, 115 pounds of eggs—to name only a few items.

Figure it out for yourself. You buy thousands of pounds of food every year. A & P stores offer savings all the way from a fraction of a cent to several cents a pound on different foods. When you buy food by the ton—as you do every year—these savings run into real money.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 30.—(AP)—Dr. E. D. McDougall, Bible professor at Southwestern, a Presbyterian College here, was dropped from the 1931-32 faculty today against the protest of 11 members of the Memphis Presbyterian Pastors' Association.

CRAWFORD W. LONG
PLAQUE UNVEILEDRededication of Hospital
Honors Famous Georgia Physician.

The memory of Dr. Crawford W. Long, native Georgian and the first surgeon on record to make use of ether as an anesthetic, was honored Monday afternoon when the Davis-Fischer sanatorium was rededicated in his name with two of his daughters unveiling the bronze plaque which, installed at the entrance of the sanatorium, commemorates his immortal achievement.

The late Dr. Joseph Jacobs, friend of Dr. Long and the man who did more, perhaps, than any other to gain worldwide recognition of his great discovery, and Dr. E. C. Davis, one of the founders of the sanatorium, were also honored by having memorial tablets inscribed to their memory unveiled at the exercises.

A crowd of such proportions that it overflowed the seats reserved on the porches of the famous institution and trickled out into the yard and sidewalk attended the ceremonies, which were presided over by Dr. Frank K. Boland, associate of Dr. Davis in the Emory unit and a close friend of Dr. Jacobs.

Opening with an invocation pronounced by the Rev. Richard Orme Flinn, the program was continued with an address by Rabbi David Marx, who dwelt upon Dr. Long's achievements as a "country doctor and a gentleman of the old school" as well

College Girls' Travel
Must Be Dry, Leader Says

BALBOA, Canal Zone, March 30. (AP)—Students of the Gulf Park College for Girls, of Gulfport, Miss., who go on the annual Caribbean cruise, must sign a pledge to drink no liquor on the trip, Dr. R. G. Cox, president of the college, who is conducting the tour of 60 girls from various states, said today.

The girls attended a dance last night at the Union Club. Today they went on a sightseeing tour of the Panama canal.

as upon the discovery by which his name has been immortalized.

Brief tributes were then paid by Mrs. A. R. Colcord and Mrs. Bun Wyllie, officials of the D. A. R., under whose auspices the dedicatory ceremonies were given. Mrs. John A. Perdue, state honorary president of the U. D. C., representing members of that body, delivered the address immediately preceding the unveiling of the medallion to Dr. Long by his two surviving daughters, Miss Emma Long and Mrs. Eugenia Long Harper.

After the unveiling brief addresses were delivered by the following: Dr. E. G. Ballenger, representing the Emory unit; Governor L. G. Hardman, Chief Justice Richard B. Russell, Mayor James L. Key, Dr. Allen H. Bunce, secretary of the Medical Association of Georgia, who spoke in the absence of Dr. C. Y. Moore, president, and Dr. T. C. Davidson, president of the Fulton County Medical Society.

"Pledges of loyalty" to the ideals exemplified by Dr. Davis were delivered by Miss Caroline Sutton, superintendent of the hospital training school, and by Miss Alice R. Thompson, president of the Davis-Fischer Alumni Association. Dr. Robert G. Stephens and Judge Alexander W. Stephens, grandnephews of Alexander H. Stephens, and Mrs. Horace Holman, of Athens, grandnieces of the statesman, were then introduced to the audience. Dr. J. G. Earnest, who was to have been introduced, was unable to attend.

The ceremonies were concluded in the reception hall of the hospital where tablets inscribed to Dr. Joseph Jacobs and to Dr. E. C. Davis were unveiled. Rabbi Marx paid tribute to Dr. Jacobs and the tablet was unveiled by the latter's grandson, Sinclair Jacobs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Jacobs. Dr. Frank K. Boland eulogized Dr. Davis, whose two younger children, Sarah Fischer Davis and Theodore Lamar Davis, unveiled the tablet inscribed to his memory.

COLD SPELL OVER,
SAYS FORECASTERExpected Freezing
Weather Averted by Deviation of Storm.

Deviation of a storm from its expected course lessened severity of Monday morning's cold snap, according to C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist. The weather man Monday predicted increasing cloudiness for this morning, to be followed this afternoon by rain.

Although he hopes that severe cold weather is gone until next winter, Mr. von Herrmann said he could not be sure of this, as Atlanta has experienced temperatures as low as 25 degrees as late as April, and had 32 degrees on April 25, 1910. The chilly weather of the past several days did no harm to the fruit crop, however, he felt certain. Some anxiety had been caused over possible damage to the peach crop, but so far it has not been realized, he said.

Atlanta was due to experience below freezing weather Monday morning, but by a fortunate chance the storm heading this way changed its course and went up the Ohio valley toward New England, Mr. von Herrmann said.

Temperatures today will be slightly warmer, ranging between 49 and 55 degrees, Mr. von Herrmann said. Monday's minimum was 35, and the thermometer rose to a pleasant level during the day.

A storm from Texas is expected to bring today's rain. Conditions probably will clear up Wednesday and fair weather will come back, the weather man said. The cold weather is just for the present, he added.

Singer, Blower
Unite in Peace
For Fifth Judge

NEW YORK, May 20. (UP)—

After four other magistrates had failed to effect a peace pact, Magistrate Alfred E. Steers, of Flatbush court, today brought an amicable end to the dispute between Harold Frank, singer, and Herman G. Roepert, horn-blower.

Roepert lives in the apartment above Frank, and according to evidence adduced during the hearing, Frank used to press singing at all hours of the day and night. Roepert stood for this as long as he could, then bought a Klaxon horn, such as is used on automobiles.

Thereafter, every time Frank cut loose with a high C Roepert countered with his horn. This kept up for several days until Frank and Roepert arrested on a charge of disturbance.

Magistrate Steers, the fifth of his profession to attempt to settle the dispute, succeeded today in getting the two principals to shake hands. Frank promised that he would be more careful about his vocal chords, and Roepert assured the court that the Klaxon would sound no more.

JENKINS IS PROMOTED BY SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Announcement Monday of the promotion of Frank L. Jenkins to be passenger traffic manager of the Southern Railway system with office at Washington, D. C., succeeding W. H. Taylor, who asked to be relieved of the duties of this office after 43 years of continuous service with the Southern's passenger department, affects two men who are widely known in Atlanta. The changes are announced by Vice President E. R. Oliver of the Southern and become effective April 15 when Mr. Taylor will become general agent, passenger department, at Richmond.

Mr. Taylor first came to Atlanta as stenographer for the old Atlanta and Florida railroad, now the Southern's Fort Valley branch, in April, 1888. After various promotions which took him to Birmingham, Savannah, Washington and New York, he returned to Atlanta as district passenger agent for the Richmond and Danville railway at Atlanta, continuing in that capacity after the formation of the Southern Railway Company in 1910.

He was promoted to assistant general passenger agent at Louisville in February, 1917, returned to Atlanta in that position in January, 1921, and in May, 1924, went to Washington as general passenger agent. He was promoted to passenger traffic manager May, 1925.

Mr. Jenkins entered the Southern's service in Augusta, Ga., in 1901, and has been located at Augusta, Washington, Birmingham, Atlanta, Jacksonville and Philadelphia. He came to Atlanta in 1917 as special representative and assisted in the heavy troop movements during the war period. He was made district passenger agent at Philadelphia on March 1, 1920, and promoted to assistant general passenger agent at Washington on July 15, 1926.

Free taxicab service to and from church on Easter Sunday has again been offered to the people of Atlanta who, due to their age or physical infirmities, would be otherwise unable to attend. The Black and White Cab Company, which also operates the yellow cabs, made the announcement Monday through its president, A. L. Belle Isle.

This policy of donating the services of the company's facilities has been in effect for the last five years. During that time many persons who had no facilities of their own have been served. The company asks the cooperation of those intending to benefit by this opportunity by placing their orders with the Black and White Cab Company before 7 o'clock Saturday night, in order to give the organization time to arrange the routing efficiently.

The headquarters of the company are at 220 Ivy street, N. E., and the telephone number is Walnut 0200.

4 "DOPE" SUSPECTS PUT UNDER BONDS

Four defendants arrested Saturday in a series of raids that netted a dozen arrests on narcotic charges Monday were held for the federal grand jury under bonds of $2,000 each by United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith, and others will be given preliminary hearings today.

Those assessed $2,000 bonds Monday were Frank Campbell, Mel Campbell, Grady Carroll and Robert O'Neal. Bond was posted for Frank Campbell, and the others were held pending the posting of bail.

Narcotic agents who worked under cover for several months described alleged transactions with the defendants and testified that they bought morphine at $100 an ounce.

Another defendant was added to those in the police station Monday when narcotic officers picked up Tommie Trolinger at a Baker street address on a morphine sale charge.

Pastor, Ill in Hospital, Weds Atlanta Couple

Fiegmont hospital was the scene of a wedding complete even to the rice showers Sunday afternoon when the Rev. A. Byron Couch, confined to the institution with rheumatism, performed a marriage ceremony for Miss Louise Robinson, of 647 Dill avenue, S. W., and Clarence Lam, of Roanoke, Va.

Dr. Couch's friendship with the bride began a number of years ago, when she resided at Buford, and he was pastor at the Baptist church there. When she decided to get married, Miss Robinson would hear of no one's performing the ceremony but Dr. Couch. And, though he had been in the hospital for six days and had to recite his lines in bed, and from memory, he managed to go through with it all right. The couple left the hospital amid a shower of rice for a honeymoon trip, by automobile, through Florida.

TENNESSEE HIGHWAYS
DRAWN INTO PROBEMaterial Bought From Caldwell
Firm Is Evidence Brought Out.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 30. (AP)—Specifications for rock asphalt roads in Tennessee, the state affairs investigating committee learned today, call for natural sandstone, of which the largest producer is the Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company, described in court records as one of the controlled companies of Caldwell & Co.

Robert H. Baker, commissioner of highways, in describing the specifications, pointed out, however, that the last time a check was made there were at least eight other companies producing this material and said that all producers were competitors.

He told the committee that Kyrock—the product of the Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company—was never specified, saying it was just a "specie" of natural sandstone. Products of other companies have been used, the commissioner testified, but he was unable to give a comparison when asked if use of natural sandstone other than Kyrock was "very negligible."

"Don't you know that Kyrock under the specifications, has been used almost exclusively?" pursued Committee member Robert L. Alexander, Jr. "I couldn't say," replied Baker. "I am satisfied the majority of the material used has been from the Kentucky Rock Asphalt Company."

In 1930, it was brought out, 217.14 miles of rock asphalt roads were built as compared with 302.66 of cement, or on the basis of two-fifths to three-fifths.

A highway department employee told of driving Governor Henry H. Horton's automobile during part of his last primary and election campaigns and the committee sought to show that nothing was done about reimbursing the state for the time the employee was away from his duties "until this investigation started."

FLORIDA BANDITS GET 20 YEARS

CHIPLEY, Fla., March 30. (AP)—Two men and two women will leave here tomorrow for Raiford and the Florida state prison. John Law and not Dan Cupid will accompany the two couples. They will be gone a long time.

They are the members of north Florida's recent highway bandit quartet and Circuit Judge C. D. Jones changed their plans for the future here today when he sentenced the men to 20 years in prison at hard labor and the women to 10 years in prison.

Leonard (Tex) Hayes and Bert Oglesby, formerly of Tulsa, Okla., more recently of the jailhouse in Springfield, Mo., and now wanted in New Orleans for robbery, were sentenced to 20 years for robbery and 10 years for assault with intent to murder. The sentences will run concurrently.

Mabel Wertz and Fay Harris, both of St. Louis, were sentenced to 10 years for being accessories to the robberies and to five years for being accessories to the assaults. Their sentences also will run concurrently.

A. P. Acquires P. & A. Foreign Photo Service

NEW YORK, March 30. (AP)—The acquisition of Pacific & Atlantic, Ltd., a British corporation, by the Associated Press news photo service, was announced tonight by Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press.

The taking over by the Associated Press of the activities of Pacific & Atlantic, Ltd., a British corporation, is another step in the expansion of the Associated Press news photo service, Mr. Cooper said.

"The Pacific & Atlantic, Ltd., has been operated several years by the parent company of the same name in this country which on January 1 consolidated with Acme News Pictures."

DIRECTORS OF BANK
SUED FOR $14,000,000

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 30. (AP)—Sued for more than $14,000,000 was filed in federal court today by Paul C. Keyes, receiver for the National Bank of Kentucky, against directors of the bank. Keyes seeks the money to cover losses which he alleged were incurred through improvident, wasteful and illegal acts of management. The suit involves transactions over a period of 10 years and asks damages on every loss for which, in the receiver's opinion, the directors were responsible. These losses are listed as having been the result of excessive loans on Bancokentucky Company stock, loans over the legal limit of 10 per cent of the capital stock and surplus, and loans which the receiver claims would not have been made had reasonable care and judgment been exercised.

FRUIT FLY INSPECTION

Farm Board, Marketing Act Attacked by Cotton Leader

"Utter Failure" as Aid to Farmers, Declares Dameron H. Williams at Savannah Meeting.

schemes which have always failed wherever and whenever tried—is so fundamentally unsound and unworkable in its makeup that I seriously doubt if even its most optimistic proponents really thought it would bring relief.

Under the provisions of the act the United States government has been definitely and badly placed in business—in open competition with business. Private initiative can never be encouraged when government competition must be faced. Chaos always results when business is called upon to compete with the treasury of its own country. Mills and merchants and stores must simply shut up shop and wait for the storm to subside.

"The menace of the government in business and that unfortunate tendency to pass a new law every time a new condition arises—both are serving as dead weights to slow up business."

"It has been said in weak defense that the government has entered business as an emergency measure. Aside from time of war, there should be no situation or condition, and in the history of this country there has been none, which should cause us to violate sound principles."

"Undoubtedly an emergency exists somewhere, however, when we view the recently disclosed figures showing that $15,000,000 have been lost by the government in cotton alone, with indications that the total loss in this unfortunate experiment in the handling of farm commodities will approximate $100,000,000."

"We appear to have a so-called revolving fund which, because actually a fifth of its circumference is flat, refuses to revolve.

"Fortunately the whole country is alive to the situation today. Congress realizes what has happened and I feel sure the members of that body will soon bring to a stop this effort to turn the United States treasury into a community chest. The farmer and the businessman and the citizen generally realize that there is but one step from the government in the farm commodity business to a government store with a government corner grocery supplying our food."

Act Has Few Friends.

"Criticism of the act on the floor of congress this past session has been general. It has few friends. The pages of the Congressional Record are filled with references to the failure of the act. Senator Norbeck, of South Dakota, I think aptly expressed the general sentiment of the country at the same time points out one of the many weak points of the act when he stated, in the course of a debate, 'Mr. President, when the agricultural marketing act—the so-called farm relief bill—was pending I protested on several occasions against even attempting to help the farmer by using government money for speculation purposes in a market. I believed it to be unsound now, I thought then and I think now the act is a disaster. It has expressed an unfair attitude toward the American farmer by trying to regulate the world market instead of the American market.'"

"The truth of this statement, in the light of events within the past two years, becomes evident. 'Exports of American cotton have declined. Foreign substitution of foreign growths is rapidly increasing. The loss of over two million bales of American cotton in world consumption last year throws just that much cotton back on the American cotton farmer. 'The price of cotton has declined from about 16 cents to a low of around 10 cents and lower since the farm board attempted its control of the cotton market. No one is going to blame them for entire list of troubles we are having but it is quite evident to my mind that their activity served to greatly aggravate an already unfortunate condition. 'It has been estimated that the price of the farmers' cotton is at least two cents lower because of the farm board's attempted control than it would have been otherwise. 'The farm board's first move on coming into power was, as part of a plan to rehabilitate a number of insolvent cotton co-operatives, to execute a squeeze in the cotton futures market, resulting in a disruption of that market. 'The attempted pegging of the price ended as all price fixing schemes usually end—in complete failure. I cannot find that anyone was helped by the operation. 'Under the set-up then arranged by the farm board, in cotton, the government became the banker, who put back in business and furnished practically all the capital for the cotton co-operatives. 'As part of this operation the American Cotton Co-operative Association was organized by the government. A capital of 30 millions of dollars was authorized. I assume that the government has already advanced many millions of dollars to this corporation. 'Now I want to be very plain and I want to be understood. No cotton shippers association has ever taken a stand in opposition to farmer owned, farmer controlled and farmer financed cotton co-operatives. We do not now take such a stand. But I can see no line of demarcation between the farm board, the American Cotton Co-operative Association, the Stabilization Corporation and the state co-operatives. 'This big cotton firm controls over three million bales of cotton. It is sold or it is held, evidently, according to the policies the banker dictates. Mills heavily of this large stock. It hangs heavily over the heads of spinners and merchants and for all we know may fall at any time. Is it any wonder then that textile manufacturers and merchants and investors generally have stood aside in fear of what their government may do? And it surely cannot be said the farmer has profited by turning over his cotton to this large firm. 'Ninety-two per cent of the farmers producing cotton in the south do not belong to cotton co-operatives. These have been evidently without the pale and have not received even a gesture of doubtful aid. 'U. S. Must Decide Quickly. 'I firmly believe that the United States government must decide, and that quickly, to either handle the entire cotton crop of the south or else get out of the commodity business. 'Aside from the expensive stabilization and holding movements instituted by the board and its subsidiaries, we find the next step was to set up a world-wide selling organization. Thus the emphasis has been placed on selling. Where the farmer formerly had to pay the cost of the state co-operatives he is now called upon to pay for the American Cotton Co-operative Association and the Stabilization Corporation in addition. 'Verily the proceeds of his bale will be small. 'I maintain that the distribution and selling of the farmers' products, especially cotton, is not at fault. In my opinion he is able to sell his cotton through existing private business organizations at an absolute minimum of cost. Profits have been exceedingly small to those of us engaged in the business. 'At a time when most successful business houses were cutting costs of production and otherwise, it is unfortunate if the cotton farmer must add to his. 'Repeal of the present act or an amendment which would take the government out of business is going to be necessary if the farmer is to have relief. Further, if the farm work can be placed entirely under the department of agriculture, these necessary changes can be worked out. 'Live At Home. 'A program emphasizing the 'Live At Home' movement, education, schools of economy, better seed and ginning, new uses for cotton, sound land selection, reforestation and other such sound plans could be developed following a proper inquiry. We cannot afford to further injure the cotton farmer by unwise plans. 'I feel sure the cotton shippers will lend themselves to these sound programs and are willing and will be glad to participate unselfishly to the end that prosperity may be restored to the cotton farmers of the south. 'Several hundred delegates heard Mr. Williams' address, and another address by W. W. Ball, of Charleston, S. C., editor of the Charleston News and Courier. 'Another business session was held this afternoon. The selection of a cou-

MAN FOUND DEAD BELIEVED GEORGIAN

EL PASO, Texas, March 30.—(AP)—The body of an American was found in a rooming house here Monday pending communication of officials with relatives believed to live in Fayetteville, Georgia.

The body was found in a rooming house here and police believed death resulted from alcoholic poisoning. A letter found on the body mentioned Mrs. T. Wald, of Fayetteville, as a sister.

DESCRIPTION TALLIES

WITH JEFFERSONVILLE MAN FAYETTEVILLE, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary T. Ward told police here Monday she believed the body of a man found dead in a rooming house in El Paso, Texas, was that of her brother, F. R. Rogers, 60, who was on route to Mexico.

Undertakers in El Paso communicated with local officers and Mrs. Ward, the wife of Judge E. S. Ward, prominent Fayetteville citizen, said the description fitted that of her brother.

Mrs. Ward said she last heard from him through a letter written from Bucklin, Kan., where he had been working with a construction company. Rogers said in the letter he was leaving then for Mexico.

Committees were appointed for nomination of officers and resolutions. They are: Nominating, B. T. Low, Augusta, chairman; D. F. Griffin, Savannah; J. A. Baker, Charlotte; George T. Robison, Greenville; C. F. Middleton, Jr., Charleston, and Lucien Loch, Montgomery; resolutions, Thornton Clark, Montgomery, chairman; C. R. Bulley, Norfolk, and F. J. Rondon, Greenville. "Americans have taken refuge behind the fragile barricades of the tariff laws," said W. W. Ball, editor of the Charleston (S. C.) News and Courier, in his address to the convention. "They have imagined that they could protect the United States by building the walls a little higher, having piled half the world's goods within their compound, their effort has been to keep out the goods of other countries. "Yet there are those in our moral state who would even accept France's champagne in exchange for cotton. The Americans have speeded production beyond consumption by their selves and are undertaking to sell the surplus only for gold, the one value that other countries do not possess. In this way, a large section of our own people have been led into poverty induced by protective tariffs for a little more than a century. "The producers of staple crops as wheat, corn, cotton suffering more acutely from protection than usual, the necessity arose to give them an outlet, so far as the world was concerned. Half a billion flung to the farmers was of no consequence to a country rich beyond dream and bestriding the narrow world. The farm board, administer the scheme, which men of honest thinking foresaw was doomed to failure, forthwith formed a partnership with deluded farmers. Most of us look with extreme dislike upon the Russians, the soviet government, though we have ceased to look upon it with derision or contempt. We know that Russia is a factory, that its successful operation depends wholly on forced labor. In Russia is no unemployment. A man works or starves. He works where and when he is told and if he murmurs he is jailed, shot, or sent to the mines and lumber camps. "Competing with a factory of that kind does not seem fair. One must have sympathy with the motives of those who would place embargoes on Russian imports. Whether or not it be expedient or practicable to place them is another matter."

"I firmly believe that the United States government must decide, and that quickly, to either handle the entire cotton crop of the south or else get out of the commodity business."

"Aside from the expensive stabilization and holding movements instituted by the board and its subsidiaries, we find the next step was to set up a world-wide selling organization. Thus the emphasis has been placed on selling. Where the farmer formerly had to pay the cost of the state co-operatives he is now called upon to pay for the American Cotton Co-operative Association and the Stabilization Corporation in addition. "Verily the proceeds of his bale will be small. "I maintain that the distribution and selling of the farmers' products, especially cotton, is not at fault. In my opinion he is able to sell his cotton through existing private business organizations at an absolute minimum of cost. Profits have been exceedingly small to those of us engaged in the business. "At a time when most successful business houses were cutting costs of production and otherwise, it is unfortunate if the cotton farmer must add to his. "Repeal of the present act or an amendment which would take the government out of business is going to be necessary if the farmer is to have relief. Further, if the farm work can be placed entirely under the department of agriculture, these necessary changes can be worked out. "Live At Home. "A program emphasizing the 'Live At Home' movement, education, schools of economy, better seed and ginning, new uses for cotton, sound land selection, reforestation and other such sound plans could be developed following a proper inquiry. We cannot afford to further injure the cotton farmer by unwise plans. "I feel sure the cotton shippers will lend themselves to these sound programs and are willing and will be glad to participate unselfishly to the end that prosperity may be restored to the cotton farmers of the south. "Several hundred delegates heard Mr. Williams' address, and another address by W. W. Ball, of Charleston, S. C., editor of the Charleston News and Courier. "Another business session was held this afternoon. The selection of a cou-dition of the cotton farmer must add to his.

Ft. Benning To Test New Weapon Which May Replace Present Rifle

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Tests of a new weapon which may replace the present Springfield rifle used by the United States infantry will be made under the supervision of the infantry board at Fort Benning, Ga., it was announced Monday by the war department.

Under order of Major General Stephen O. Fugua, chief of infantry, 20 Gerand semi-automatic shoulder rifles have been shipped to the Georgia post. This weapon, the invention of a civilian employe at the Springfield, Mass., arsenal, it is stated, would, if adopted, "greatly increase fire power and would be, perhaps, the most progressive accomplishment in infantry equipment since the World War."

The Gerand rifle, it is announced, is about the same weight as the one at present used by infantry, but is of 276 caliber, as compared to the Springfield's 30 caliber. It loads and ejects automatically and while the smaller caliber is a deterrent feature, it has the advantage of being able, in the case of rapid fire, to discharge between 40 and 50 shots a minute, as compared with a maximum of about 10 in the case of the Springfield.

ALLEGED SLAYERS TO FIGHT EXTRADITION

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 30.—(AP)—Tuesday in criminal court here the legal battle to prevent the extradition of Hugh Bowen and John E. Smith to Catoosa county, Georgia, to stand trial for killing Paul H. Kingston in Chickamauga Park December 14, will open.

Brought back from the far west by Sheriff Charlie Taylor, of this county, the two men have remained in jail for several weeks awaiting action of Governor Henry Horton, of Tennessee, on the application of Governor Hardman, of Georgia, for a requisition.

The application was approved Saturday, but counsel for Bowen and Smith immediately filed habeas corpus proceedings. These will be heard Tuesday.

Officers charge that Bowen and Smith slew Kingston in a plot to collect insurance on a younger brother of Bowen, it being the plan to so mutilate the body of the victim as to prevent identification. The younger Bowen is under arrest in Georgia for his part in the alleged crime.

Looking At Life by The Chance

Records and Reasons

Maybe you said, a few weeks ago, when I was bragging about my company smashing a sales record in 1930, "Well, what of it? How does that help me?"

It may help you quite a bit—in working out your own financial plans. In a year when insurance in general showed a slight decline, folks in 45 states bought 13% more of the particular brands of insurance offered by Pacific Mutual than in the banner insurance year of 1929. There was a reason for this. They did it because, in addition to just plain insurance protection along old-fashioned lines, Pacific Mutual has something sound and sure to offer almost everybody who had any plans that depended on having ready money ready when needed.

Savings, investment, old age income... business protection, family protection... education for the youngsters and a business stake or a wedding dowry for them later on... the gratification of a personal hobby or the endowment of an alma mater or other pet project... certainly that money saved to finance a comfortable old age would reach... relief from fears for the family's future, so a fellow could give all his attention and all his capital to building up a business... beating that bogey which camps on so many pillows at night and asks: "What would happen to THEM if you got sick or hurt and had nothing coming in?"

Everything in the way of personal, family and business insurance protection... all offered under the most modern and liberal arrangements, fitted to individual needs... and backed by a company so strong that it was absolutely unaffected by the financial storms of the past year.

All these were reasons why folks in forty-five states who bought less of almost everything else in 1930 bought 13% more Pacific Mutual insurance. Maybe I haven't mentioned the particular reason that would interest you, but it's a safe bet that if you'll ask your Pacific Mutual representative you will find it covered, too.

DO YOU REALLY KNOW WHAT LUXURIOUS MOTORING IS?

Your first ride in a Cadillac V-12 is certain to prove a new experience—for there are a number of things about multi-cylinder performance which come as a surprise to every motorist. You will hear no noise at all when you drive the V-12—unless it be the rush of the tires on the pavement. If you choose, you may go 30 to 35 miles an hour in low gear—with the speeds of the other gears in proportion. You will ride so easily and comfortably that even a long day's trip will be a relaxation. And—if you are driving the car yourself—you will scarcely be conscious of the handling effort. Because of these facts, we are certain you would enjoy driving this distinguished automobile. May we send you a V-12 for a trial?

LEAF GROWERS DELAY
OPERATION OF CO-OP

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 30.—The organization committee of the Georgia Tobacco Growers' Marketing Association decided Monday to postpone the start of operations until 1932.

The organization, however, will go ahead with the securing of a charter and other legal details of incorporation.

Committee meeting here said they could have gone ahead with operations during the 1931 season but believed it more economical and more to the interest of the growers to carry on the sign-up campaign and start operations in 1932 with a large acreage.

The officers and executive committee will serve as the incorporating directors. They are Alex. K. Sessions, of Cogdell, president; Homer S. Durden, of Swainsboro, vice president; J. A. Pearson, of Alma, secretary; E. George Butler, Savannah; James Fowler, Superior; J. A. Cromartie, Hazlehurst; H. L. Wingate, Pelham; E. D. Rivers, Lakeland; J. W. Sikes, Douglas; and Charles L. Smith, Moultrie.

Cogdell, home of the president, was named as the association's main place of business with the understanding that this will be changed when active operation is started.

A resolution was adopted asking Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, to give his full aid to the association.

Resolutions were adopted thanking the federal farm board, the State College of Agriculture and the Savannah Chamber of Commerce for assistance rendered the organization committee.

TENNESSEE MINISTER
SHOT BY HOLDUP MEN

HUNTSVILLE, Tenn., March 30.—(AP)—Officers were searching for three men who attempted to hold up the Rev. Emmett Huggitt, 35-year-old Baptist preacher, and who during a scuffle shot the pastor's left hand off.

Huggitt was returning to his home, two miles from here, from the Low Gap community, where he had preached Sunday. He was carrying a shotgun wrapped in a coat.

The pastor told Sheriff Esau Laxton that when he stopped by a spring three masked men stepped from the woods and told him to "stick up" his hands. One, he said, made at him with a knife.

Huggitt said he shot at the men with his 12 gauge shotgun but missed. He was tackled and his gun taken away from him. During the struggle, he told Sheriff Laxton, the gun was discharged, tearing away his hand.

The men then fled into the woods and Huggitt came to Huntsville for medical aid and to notify officers.

The preacher said he was carrying a gun because he was held up and robbed of several dollars a few weeks ago.

Old Oglethorpe University
Site To Be Marked Today

Monument To Be Unveiled Near Milledgeville By Officials of D. A. R. Organization.

BY MRS. C. B. McCULLAR. MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 30.—Memories of a glamorous past will be restored Tuesday around the site of old Oglethorpe University near Milledgeville when a marker is unveiled to cite the spot where the school was located. The event will take place at 3:30 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Nancy Hart Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. J. L. Beeson, state historian of the organization and a past regent of the local chapter, is in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Bun Wylie, of Atlanta, state regent of the D. A. R.; Mrs. J. Harrell Nicholson, state auditor of Savannah; and Mrs. Robert C. Travis, state chairman for marking historic spots, will be among those in attendance.

Mrs. Wylie will make the patriotic address and Victor Davidson, state historian of the S. A. R., author of "The History of Wilkes County" and member of the John Milledgeville Chapter S. A. R., will also speak.

The marker has been erected under the supervision of John H. Hargrave of Milledgeville, who gave his services free. It was designed by Mrs. Sam Wright, of Staunton, Va., formerly Miss Katherine Beeson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Beeson, of Milledgeville.

Included in the marker is the original cornerstone of Oglethorpe University, which was dug up several years ago when workmen were working on the buildings at the Allen Invalid Home, of which the site is now a part. The old, rusted box that formerly held the stone will be replaced with a new one. The new box will contain a history of the Nancy Hart Chapter, a history of the Allen Invalid Home, and two of the four old papers in the cornerstone 94 years ago.

Gifts of Descendants. With four exceptions, the cornerstone has been erected by gifts of descendants of old Oglethorpe students and in a few cases by descendants of old academy graduates, and in one notable instance by an academy graduate himself.

The list of donors are: Alfred Newell, Atlanta; Judge Z. D. Harrison, Atlanta; S. E. Hall, J. P. Humphries, Mrs. Anna Crawford, Mrs. Maggie Cook, Dr. George H. Green, J. Bulow Campbell, Atlanta; Leila Lamar, Atlanta; D. D. Nisbet, Lakeland, Fla.; Mrs. S. H. Askew, Decatur; Dr. E. M. Green, Harrisburg, Pa.; Mrs. David Ferguson, Miss Leila Lamar, Miss Elizabeth Sibley, Mrs. J. P. Longino, Mrs. S. D. Maxwell, Miss Susan Evans, Miss Anne Orme Sallee, Miss Mary Owen Sallee, Erwin Sibley, Miss Josephine Sibley, Jennings, Harry B. Jennings, J. Sibley Jennings, Erwin Rewis Jennings, Mrs. D. W. Brannen, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Miss Mattie Thomas, Mrs. Sarah Woolfolk Tyler, Miss Caro Lane, Ed Lane, Mrs. Ed Lawrence, all of Milledgeville; Tom Stewart, Harry Stewart and Ben Stewart, of Macon.

Four exceptions to this have been Mrs. H. D. Allen, who has contributed generously and on whose property the marker is located; E. E. Bell, prominent Milledgeville man, and Mrs. Beeson, who has devoted much time and effort to the arrangements; and John Hutchinson, who gave his time and talent to the erection of the marker.

From the pages of the Georgia Journal is the following description of the laying of the original cornerstone: "The order of the day will be the principals of the Midway Seminary, students of the same; the principal of the Milledgeville Academy, scholars of the same; citizens and strangers, the board of trustees, the president thereof, and secretary, the statehouse officers, judges of the superior and justices of the inferior courts, the mayor and aldermen of the city of Milledgeville, the members of the Hopewell presbytery, the moderators and orators, and Masonic fraternity in appropriate order and costume.

"The program will be under the order of the grand marshal and his assistants on horseback. Appropriate seats will be provided for women."

Ninety-four years elapsed between the two ceremonies.

NOW TAKE OFF FAT
A POUND A DAY
ON A FULL STOMACHDo Just These
Two Simple Things
Fat Melts Away

NO tiring exercise, no starvation. Instead, a full stomach and never a hungry moment! Yet fat melts away. You can easily lose from four to seven pounds weekly, see the coarse lines of fat replaced by the refined lines of slenderness—and feel better than you ever felt before in your life.

WHAT YOU DO

There are just two simple things you do: Clear your system—and keep it clear of waste matter, toxins and depleting poisons with ordinary JAD SALTS obtainable at any drug store. Start with a teaspoonful in a full glass of water tomorrow morning—a sparkling and pleasant drink.

Then EAT YOUR FILL—as much as your appetite can stand—of meals consisting of the following foods:

At breakfast eat two oranges, or the juice of two oranges. Eat also two slices of toasted whole wheat or bran bread. Eat rolled oats (with milk, not cream).

At luncheon eat a good size piece of lean meat, then see how much spinach, lettuce, sauerkraut, boiled cabbage, green peas, broccoli or fresh turnips you can eat. EAT ALL YOU CAN COMFORTABLY.

At night, have another FILL-UP-FULL MEAL as above. Cut down on butter and sweets—eat half of what you eat now. That's easy. For with your stomach full of other foods, you'll never notice it. Drink water or not as you like.

Girl May Be Crippled
By Accidental Shot

COLUMBUS, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—The charge from a shotgun accidentally fired by Grover Lee Stillwell, 16, struck his sister, Mattie Emma, 19, in the right knee at the home about 13 miles from here on the Macon road.

Physicians at a hospital here found the knee badly mangled. They could not determine immediately whether the girl would be crippled.

No charges were filed against the boy. Officers investigated and reported the gun was fired by accident while he was playing with it.

GARDEN CLUB GROUP
HEARS B. C. MILNER

GAINESVILLE, Ga., March 30.—B. C. Milner, of Atlanta, assistant engineer for the state highway department, spoke to members of the eight clubs in the Gainesville Federation of Garden Clubs Monday afternoon.

Mrs. A. C. McEver, president of the federation, presided at the meeting.

Mr. Milner spoke of the widespread interest throughout the state of civic and women's clubs in the highway beautification work and stated that the highway department stands ready to cooperate with the garden clubs and other organizations in this work.

He told of the accomplishments of this work in Thomasville, Marietta, Atlanta, Sandersville, Macon and other towns. Mr. Milner told also of the value of state parks in attracting tourists and cited Vogel state parks as one of the greatest forestry projects in the state.

BANDIT SHOT, CAPTURED
AFTER ROBBING BANK

TRAVELER'S REST, S. C., March 30.—(AP)—Thirty minutes after a lone bandit had held up the Farmers bank here today and escaped with $12,000, he was shot down by a posse and captured.

The bandit, short and swarthy, was bleeding freely when the posse returned him here, but apparently was not fatally wounded.

The money was turned over to the bank and officials left with the prisoner for Greenville, the county seat. More than 50 men took part in the chase after the bandit, who sped from the scene of the robbery in an automobile. He was overtaken and shot eight miles from here.

C. W. Nicolls, the cashier, and two negroes were in the bank when the bandit came in.

Nicolls said the man came in walking with a stick and bent over, then suddenly straightened up, drew a pistol, and demanded "all the money you got."

The vault was open and the bandit forced the cashier to turn over all the cash in the bank. He then backed to the door and leaped into his waiting automobile.

Nicolls sounded an alarm and the chase started.

GREENVILLE, S. C., March 30.—(AP)—Brought here after his capture, a bandit who robbed the Farmers Bank of Traveler's Rest today said his name was James I. Gray. He refused to give other information about himself.

city of Milledgeville, the members of the Hopewell presbytery, the moderators and orators, and Masonic fraternity in appropriate order and costume.

"The program will be under the order of the grand marshal and his assistants on horseback. Appropriate seats will be provided for women."

Ninety-four years elapsed between the two ceremonies.

3 CAROLINA WOMEN
INJURED IN WRECK

BAXLEY, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—Three women narrowly escaped serious injury this afternoon when their automobile overturned on the highway eight miles south of here. Miss Mary Lee Shepherd sustained a dislocated shoulder, while Mrs. James Shannon House, the driver, and Mrs. Frank Coker escaped with cuts and contusions.

The women, all of whom live in Charlotte, N. C., were returning from Waycross to their homes. While traveling at a high rate of speed, the left rear tire of the heavy sedan blew out and the car turned over.

All three were rushed to the Barnes hotel here and given first aid treatment by local physicians. Although their injuries were not serious they were all suffering with shock and remained at the hotel under the care of a trained nurse brought from Waycross.

B. Y. P. U. CONVENTION
OPENS IN CANTON

CANTON, Ga., March 30.—More than a hundred delegates attended the opening here Monday of the North-western Regional B. Y. P. U. convention. Dr. Walter P. Binn, LaGrange, formerly of Atlanta, was the principal speaker.

Dr. R. C. Dailey, of Shorter College, Rome, spoke at the close of the afternoon session. Vergil S. Crenshaw, Richmond, Va., was another speaker.

The program Tuesday includes the following speakers: Mrs. E. S. Preston, Atlanta; Miss Emma Sutherland, Cave Spring; James W. Merritt, Atlanta, executive secretary-treasurer Georgia Baptist convention; R. S. Jones, missionary to Brazil and many young people from northwest Georgia. Miss Pauline Barton, Atlanta, is soloist for the meeting. R. R. Sims, Canton, is musical director, and Carl McGinnis, of Chickamauga, is regional president.

MOTOR VEHICLES
DROP IN GEORGIA

WASHINGTON, March 30.—While the number of motor vehicles registered in the country increased slightly in 1930 over those in 1929, there was a considerable decrease in this line in Georgia, figures made public today by the department of agriculture show.

Total registrations of taxis, busses and passenger cars in the state amounted to 294,461, the figures show, while there were 47,119 trucks and road tractors, this being a decrease of 17,525, or 4.8 per cent. Gross receipts from registration fees in 1930 amounted to $4,482,257.

New York led the country with a registration of 1,906,981 passenger cars, taxis and busses and 340,749 trucks or road tractors, California being second with 1,810,969 and 230,387, respectively.

New York led in amount received from registration fees, $40,857,715; Pennsylvania second, $33,112,371. California evidently has a small fee for registration, receipts from this source in the state amounted to only $9,585,810.

New Fire Truck
Causes Five Fires

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., March 30.—(AP)—The town fathers are ruefully regarding a glistening new fire truck.

Since it was delivered a week ago, there have been five incendiary fires.

Someone anxious to see the handsome fire truck in action has resorted to arson in the belief of the councilmen.

STATE CONSTITUTION COMMITTEE CONFERS

Report of Commission Will Be Ready for Public Affairs Institute in May.

The second conference of the commission named by the 1930 institute of public affairs at the University of Georgia to study the state constitution and make recommendations for a new constitution was held Monday at the capitol. The report of the commission will be ready for the next gathering of the institute in May at Athens, it was said. Advisability of a constitutional convention is one of the questions under consideration.

Pimples on Face Itched and Burned. Healed by Cuticura.

"My face was broken out with pimples and worried me a lot. They festered and itched and burned causing me to scratch them, and then they scaled over. Scratching caused eruptions and my face was badly disfigured. The trouble lasted nearly two years. I could not find anything that helped them. I tried using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using two boxes of the Ointment and two cakes of Cuticura Soap I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Bessie Corum, Rt. 1, LaCrosse, Va.

Son Wins Death Race To Bedside of Father

BULL'S GAP, Tenn., March 30. (AP)—E. T. Ward, employee of a steamship line, today had won his race with death from far off Japan. Sunday he reached the bedside of his father, J. R. Ward, who has been seriously ill. Although he had been unconscious, the elder Ward recognized his son.

It took Ward 20 days to make the trip from Kobe, Japan. Storms on the Pacific delayed Ward in reaching Seattle. He took an airplane there but was forced to land after 250 miles on account of bad weather. He traveled 1,000 miles by plane and approximately 96,000 nautical miles.

NEW TOBACCO TAX IN EFFECT APRIL 1

Agents of the state department of revenue will begin enforcing the increased state tax on cigarettes Wednesday, when it goes into effect officially. R. E. Matheson, commissioner of revenue, announced Monday. The new law enacted by the recent extra session of the legislature increases the tax on cigarettes to 20 per cent, but the tax on cigars remains the same as at present, 10 per cent.

The law requires all wholesalers and jobbers to place the stamps on the cigars and cigarettes at the time they are shipped to the retailers for resale and to cancel the stamps, or when they are delivered to the retailer, Mr. Matheson said. The retailers will be required to place an additional 10 per cent tax on all cigarettes held by them in their place of business on Wednesday morning, he said. Cigarettes that do not carry the 20 per cent are subject to confiscation and the proprietors, or any clerk, to prosecution, he pointed out.

CITY EVANGELISTIC DRIVE IS PLANNED

Plans for a citywide evangelistic campaign have been inaugurated by Dr. Marion McH. Hull, president of the Southern Evangelistic Association, and the Rev. Ralph Stewart. Seven leading evangelists have been invited, and four of them have accepted. Dr. Hull said. Those who have accepted are Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, Harry Von Bruch, Elmer C. Miller and George T. Stephens.

The executive committee, headed by Dr. Hull, has completed many of the preliminaries. Chairmen of the committee thus far selected are: Rev. R. C. Huston, Dr. Charles H. Curran, E. C. Hammond, W. L. Hardin, Charles Jarrell, R. Winston Harvey, Mrs. C. H. Morris and Ralph Stewart, who will be in charge of the publicity.

MRS. W. B. EDDY PASSES AT ALBANY, N. Y., HOME

Mrs. W. B. Eddy, of Albany, N. Y., died Sunday at her home there. She was the sister of Mrs. Thomas H. Morgan, of 941 Peachtree street, and was well known in Atlanta, having paid many extended visits to her sis-

Texas Guinan's Home Ransacked by Thieves.

NEW YORK, March 30. (AP)—Tex Guinan called for handcuffs instead of hands today. She discovered that her home in West Eighth street had been entered and ransacked overnight. Various doo-dads were missing. The night club queen whose slogan is "give the little girls a hand" estimated the loot was worth from $3,500 to $4,000. Texas said a racketeer visited her recently and demanded $500 or else. She thinks the two events are connected.

NEW GARDEN GROUP TO GATHER TODAY

Plans for arousing enthusiasm in the campaign to provide employment through cultivation of gardens and beautification of vacant lots with flowers and shrubs will be made at a meeting of a special committee at noon today in the directors' room of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. R. L. Conroy is chairman of the committee and has associated with her Mrs. Preston S. Arkwright, Mrs. F. Phinix Calhoun, Mrs. Sam Inman and Mrs. Arthur Tufts. Postmaster E. K. Large, who was requested by Frank Neely, chairman of the Atlanta Better Business Committee, to organize a movement for beautifying the city by furnishing garden work to the unemployed, will meet with the committee. The campaign and seedmen have offered their aid in the movement.

THOROUGHFARES OF THE NATION

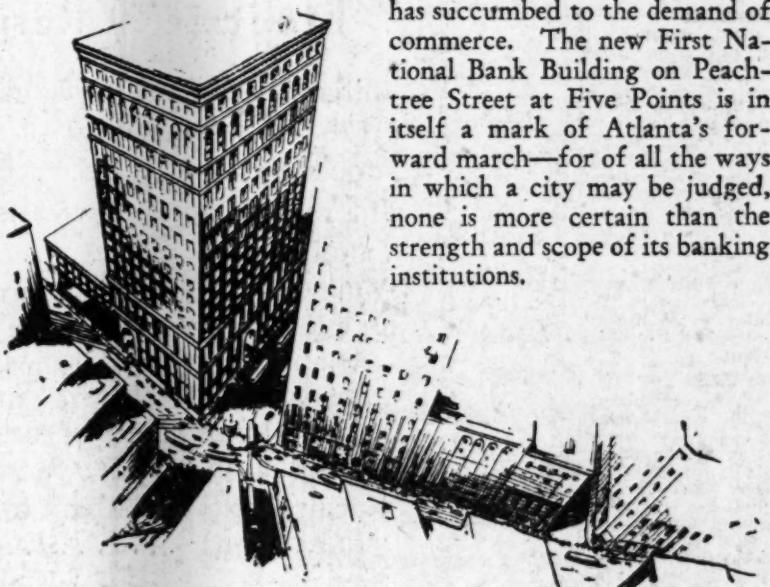

In Cleveland...

Outstanding in years gone by for its "millionaire row" of residences, Euclid Avenue today is numbered among the country's great commercial thoroughfares, a street of giant office structures, fashionable shops and great banking institutions.

In ATLANTA...

Peachtree Street, like Euclid Avenue, was a street of residences and trees in the 80's—but it, too, has succumbed to the demand of commerce. The new First National Bank Building on Peachtree Street at Five Points is in itself a mark of Atlanta's forward march—for of all the ways in which a city may be judged, none is more certain than the strength and scope of its banking institutions.

For the thousands of Atlantans who entrust us with their banking business, we maintain departments inclusive of every type of financial service. The accessibility of these departments in our new offices at Five Points is a feature you will appreciate.

"KEEPING PACE WITH SOUTHERN PROGRESS"

BOY TAKEN FOR 'RIDE' AND RELIEVED OF $10

Three white men took George Morris, a negro messenger boy for the Medlock pharmacy, for a "ride" in the Chicago manner Monday night, but satisfied themselves with taking what cash he was carrying and let him go uninjured, he told police. Morris was walking on Oglethorpe avenue, in front of No. 871, when the bandits, all of whom appeared to him to be under 20 years of age, forced him into their automobile and drove for several blocks. They finally pushed him out in front of 829 White street, whence he returned to the store, minus the $10 he started with, but unharmed.

Farm Prices Show One-Point Advance

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(P)—A one-point advance in the general level of agricultural commodity prices of local farm markets from February 15 to March 15 after an uninterrupted decline from September, 1930, was announced today by the agriculture department.
On March 15, however, when the index of farm prices stood at 91 per cent of the pre-war range, it was still 35 points lower than the previous year and at the lowest March level in 21 years.
Farm prices for grains, hay, potatoes, apples, veal calves and wool continued to decline.

Constitution-Fox Review Contest Entries Are Already Coming In

Entries in The Constitution-Fox theater review contest began to come in to the office of Manager Carter Barron at the theater on Monday. It was indicated that, before the week is over, the committee of judges will have to select the winners out of several thousand contestants.
Fifteen prizes are offered by this newspaper and the theater for 15 best 50-word reviews of the feature picture, "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," with Buster Keaton as the star, showing at the Fox this week. The winners of the first 10 prizes also have a chance at three prizes offered by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in a nationwide contest the producers of the picture are conducting.
Reviews must be mailed not later than next Sunday, April 5. Any with a postmark of later date will be disqualified. They should be addressed to Carter Barron, manager, Fox theater, Atlanta.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Produce Row building occupied by the Fidelity Fruit & Produce Co. was considerably damaged early Monday night by fire said to have started in an electric refrigeration machine in the basement. Damage did not reach the upper floors, it was stated.
Goodloe Yancey, president of the Atlanta Motor Club, Monday made a plea to parents of the city to exhibit proper respect to the schoolboy traffic patrol, when escorting their children to school. He pointed out that jaywalking and resentment on the part of parents when remonstrated with by the patrols lessens the influence of the patrol with the child, thus making the work of safety difficult.
Commissioner Samuel Logan Brengle, retired Salvation Army leader from New York, will be the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club to be held at the Ansley hotel at 12:30 today, according to an announcement by Gordon Singleton, president.

The annual central western regional B. Y. P. U. convention will be held at the Hapeville First Baptist church on April 9 and 10, according to an announcement by the Rev. Z. E. Barron, ex-officio chairman of the committee on arrangements. Walter R. Thomas, of Atlanta, is regional president.
J. B. Franklin, superintendent of the Georgia Baptist hospital, will leave today for an extended auto trip through the south. He stated Monday that he will be accompanied by his mother-in-law and his daughter, Eva Pearl Franklin, and that the trip will cover approximately 3,000 miles.

Atlanta's death rate for the week ending Saturday fell below normal for the first time in many weeks, according to figures issued Monday by Dr. John P. Kennedy, borough health officer. There were 70 deaths during the week, 36 white persons and 34 negroes. The average is about 80.

Three Atlanta schools are included in a survey to begin this morning by the special school commission, seeking permanent solution of fiscal difficulties of the public school system. Walter H. Rich, chairman, will head the survey party which will include Girls' High, Bass Junior High and Moreland Avenue schools.

Mrs. J. E. Billups, member of the borough planning commission, Monday was confined at her home because of illness, and Walter S. McNeal, Jr., another member of the commission, attended the first meeting of the commission in the past several weeks. He has been suffering from influenza.

A banquet will be served to about two hundred members of the Atlanta Union of the Christian Endeavor Association at 7 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church in Cartersville Friday. The occasion will be a rally of the Georgia District Association. Dr. R. C. Wilson will open the meeting with a prayer and W. Roy Briggs will be the principal speaker.

Postmaster E. K. Large Monday had on display a large oil painting by C. M. Sisson, 18, of Hapeville, Southern railway employee. The painting depicts the progress of the mails from the days of the pony express to the ultra-modern air mail, and includes view of a modern express rider, a buggy, an auto truck, a train and an airplane.

Depositors of the defunct Decatur Bank & Trust Company Wednesday will have available a 37 1/2 per cent dividend totaling $208,000. A. B. Mobley, state bank superintendent, announced Monday. The money will be paid out to depositors of the Decatur institution who present their claims to the Fulton National bank, which bought certain assets of the Decatur bank, and will open a branch in that borough.

Members of Camp John B. Gordon No. 46, Sons of Confederate Veterans, will meet Wednesday afternoon at the Heas-Howell building for the election of officers for the year.

Atlanta Business Club meeting at 1 o'clock today at the Henry Grady hotel will be featured by a program under the direction of E. Burns Brooks.

Services at Saint Mark's Methodist Episcopal church at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening will include special music by Mrs. L. D. King, contralto, and Charles F. Hoke, tenor. Dr. S. H. C. Burkin will preach. Good Friday services will be held at 11 o'clock with Dr. Burkin talking on the subject of the "Crucifixion" and Mrs. D. C. Adams, soprano, will sing.

Luncheon of the Civitan Club, to be held on the fourth floor of the Atlanta Athletic Club today will include the initiation of new members and a feature by Miss Minna Hecker, soprano.

Three-year-old Charles Lewis Ingram, of Opelika, Ala., who last Wednesday underwent a delicate operation for removal of a six-penny nail from his lungs, Monday was breathing through an artificial esophagus, or tracheotomy tube, inserted in his throat to prevent closing of passages. Attendants at the Georgia Baptist hospital said his condition was satisfactory.

Will Fields stole mail sacks from the Terminal station because he was hungry, and the mail sacks yielded things he could sell for food, Fields told Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood Monday in pleading guilty. Judge Underwood agreed that Fields might have been hungry, but pointed out that it was wrong to steal from the mails, and gave Fields three years in the federal penitentiary.

Possibility that litigation over the old city hall site will be renewed soon was seen Monday when Alderman J. Charlie Murphy announced that attorneys for the Carling Hotel Company, lessees of the tract, do not

When a theater manager is giving his patrons two feature pictures on one program he is faced with the problem of selecting two pictures that won't clash, in story type or cast. Manager Ed Brengle has solved this problem admirably at the Paramount theater this week.

The two features are "Other Men's Women" and "Follow the Leader," attractions of such dissimilar type that each adds to the effectiveness of the other by contrast.
The first, "Other Men's Women," is a dramatic triangle affair with its scenes laid on the railroad and its protagonists, the workers on that road, Chief Engineer and his fireman, buddies for 20 years. The third angle arrives when the engineer marries and takes a boarder in his home. Inevitable jealousy develops, with the climax coming when the two fight on a moving locomotive and there is a wreck. Tragedy rather than triumph at the end, with just a broad hint of a happy ending for the two that are left.
The second feature brings Ed Wynn, most ludicrous of clowns of the stage, to the talking screen. The picture is one laugh, a series of fast following guffaws and a hilarious scream throughout. It boasts some of the cleverest of lines and a tempo that makes the laughter move at quick-step time throughout. A picture that will do you a world of good. Aiding the comedy is the lowly hero, who almost steals the show in places, and Ginger Rogers who, you know, is always an appealing heroine.

Two mighty good pictures, with thrills to good pictures, and grins to relieve your nerves.
—RALPH T. JONES.

Auto Accidents In City Monday

9:50 A. M.—Stewart avenue and Marietta circle. Automobile operated by L. C. Archer, 335 Orange street, containing as passengers Mrs. W. B. Shirling and Mrs. J. E. Walker and her four-year-old son, J. B. Walker, skidded Monday and struck a motor car operated by J. T. Carter, 91 Atlanta avenue. Mrs. Shirling was thrown from the automobile and injured. No case made.

10 A. M.—Formwalt and Ramona street. Automobile driven by O. C. Lanier, Gordon road, hit by a truck operated by E. W. Piper, 223 Forsyth street, nearly demolishing the Lanier automobile and wrenching Lanier's back. No case made.

6:00 P. M.—Confederate avenue. Automobile driven by R. P. Walton, 372 Angier avenue, backed into the parked automobile of Officer Charles J. Shilling, 433 Cooper street, driving it into the yard and breaking a tree there. Walton was charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated. Both cars badly damaged.

NEW OAKLAND V-8

FOR ONLY $1,020 DELIVERED EQUIPPED

THIS IS THE PRICE OF THE TWO-DOOR SEDAN OR COUPE, equipped and delivered in Atlanta. Sport Coupe, $1,100.00; Four-Door Sedan or Convertible Coupe, $1,120.00; Custom Sedan, $1,180.00. All cars equipped with front and rear bumpers, shock absorbers, 5 wire wheels, extra tire, tube and tire lock.

The new Oakland is a powerful, roomy, beautiful car—built to exacting standards of comfort and dependable operation. You will want to see and drive it. Meanwhile, the value may be judged by these distinctive fine-car features:

V-TYPE 8-CYLINDER ENGINE—the type long identified with cars outstanding for ability. Oakland's motor develops 85 horsepower smoothly and quietly. Remarkable evenness is maintained under all driving conditions.

SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION—the quick, clashless, quiet-shifting mechanism hitherto considered a luxury for the few—now just a part of Oakland's new value.

NEW QUIET SECOND GEAR—comparable in quietness to the "high" gears you know, and of a new design which plays an important part in Oakland's notably rapid acceleration.

RUBBER-CUSHIONED CHASSIS—at 41 points, absorbing shocks, greatly adding to riding ease and stability on the road, and prolonging the life of the car. In addition, Oakland's rubber-cushioned spring shackles are rattle-proof and eliminate twelve points of lubrication.

NEW BODIES BY FISHER—not only contributing new values in modish appearance, comfort, craftsmanship and safety, but introducing advanced insulation against heat, cold and noise.

WHIPCORD OR MOHAIR UPHOLSTERY—giving Oakland interiors the atmosphere of flawless good taste and the wearing qualities essential to lasting value; fittings of corresponding quality.

Other Oakland features are: five wire wheels; Lovejoy shock absorbers; one-piece fenders with fender lamps; heavy single-bar bumpers; new sturdy rear axles with ball and roller bearings—oil sealed in and dust sealed out. Naturally a motor car's real character and value are best determined by personal test. A demonstration of the new Oakland will be arranged at your convenience, without obligation.

Sullivan Finds Dry South Will Support Roosevelt

Section More Interested in Dry Plank in Platform Than Views of Party Candidate.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The poll of delegates and alternates to the democratic national convention in 1928, showing that Governor Franklin Roosevelt, of New York, is their prevailing favorite for the 1932 presidential nomination, coincides with the opinion held by practically all experienced politicians and observers in Washington. No dissent as occurs takes chiefly the form of a caution which says that Roosevelt's present leadership may be changed by events during the 18 months between now and the convention or during the convention itself. The democratic rule requires the successful aspirant to have not only a majority but two-thirds of the delegates. There must always be taken into account the possible arising, from one cause or another, of a determined minority, amounting to a little more than a third of the delegates, which may be able to negative the hopes of the leader in the race. Discussion which enters into the field of alternatives to Governor Roosevelt deals chiefly with the possibility that he may not attain the indispensable two-thirds, that there may be prolonged balloting in the convention, and that the end of such a situation may take the form of a stalemate to another candidate.

No Dry as Strong. There must always be taken into account the possible arising, from one cause or another, of a determined minority, amounting to a little more than a third of the delegates, which may be able to negative the hopes of the leader in the race. Discussion which enters into the field of alternatives to Governor Roosevelt deals chiefly with the possibility that he may not attain the indispensable two-thirds, that there may be prolonged balloting in the convention, and that the end of such a situation may take the form of a stalemate to another candidate.

In speculation about such an outcome and about alternatives to Governor Roosevelt, the prevailing judgment again coincides with the poll in giving ex-Governor Alfred Smith, of New York, second place to Governor Roosevelt in the race. A conspicuous element in Governor Roosevelt's strength lies in the fact that he is preferred over any other wet by the dry democratic leaders of the south and west. It might almost be said that the dries prefer Governor Roosevelt to any other present aspirant, whether dry or wet. The reason for this paradox is that the southern dries are alarmed and somewhat dismayed by the apparently determined intention of Chairman Raskob, supported by most of the wet democratic leaders, to write a wet plank into the platform. Intelligent understanding of the democratic situation must always carry in mind as a fundamental point the distinction made by southern dries between a wet candidate and a wet plank in the platform. A wet candidate the southern dries can tolerate. A wet plank is not so easily tolerated by them. Nearly all the dry democratic leaders in the south were able to "get by" with a wet candidate in 1928.

HOW TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Makes One Look Younger.

Men and women who used to be called Grandpa and Grandma are now setting the styles by darkening their gray hair at home. For instance, J. A. McCrea, a well known Californian, recently made the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture in five minutes, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. Merely take a half-pint of water, add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at trifling cost. Apply to the hair twice weekly with a comb. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and will not rub off."—(adv.)

DON'T LET A CORN SPOIL A "DATE"

A corn can be the "death" of any party. But why let it? There is a simple way to get instant relief from the pain. You don't have to give up anticipated pleasure.

This safe, sensible treatment for corns, enjoyed by millions for 31 years, avoids harsh, rapid-fire "cures" and risky paring and starts by relieving the pressure and chafing that cause the pain. At the same time, mild medication begins to soften and loosen the corn for speedy removal.

Get a box of the famous Blue-Jay corn plasters at your druggists and see how agreeably this treatment works. Nothing could be simpler and nothing could be safer, for Blue-Jay is made by Bauer & Black, noted manufacturers of surgical dressings.

Keep a box of Blue-Jay always on hand. Stop corns before pain starts. All druggists, 25c.

Attacked by Students, College Professor Dies

WARSAW, March 30.—(AP)—A group of high school pupils in the town of Belchatow, dissatisfied with the marks on their Easter report cards, today ambushed Professor Chodzko, well known as an author of pedagogical works, and beat him so severely that he died in a hospital. Two youths were arrested.

VETERANS TO HEAR NEGRO CHORISTERS

Flipper Temple choir and West Side Harmonizers Glee Club will entertain veterans at United States Hospital No. 48 with a program of negro spirituals at 8 o'clock tonight. It was announced Monday. The entertainment will be sponsored by Miss Lillian Newsome Crawford and Miss Mary C. Cayce.

The choir and glee club, well known to local radio audiences, will be led by Annie Bell Hunnicutt and Rev. F. J. Moses, two negro singers whose voices have earned high praise from Sam Pickard, vice president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, it was announced.

Capital Restaurateur To Provide Potlikker for Hungry Senator Long

BY MARGUERITE YOUNG.
WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Governor Long, of Louisiana, can when he wants to—dunk his cornbread in his potlikker to his heart's content in at least one eating place in the capital.

Mrs. Hugh Fred, whose little tea house on Capitol Hill is known for its southern cuisine by virtually every finicky eater in town, wrote to the senator-elect today to ask for his potlikker recipe.

"If he wants to dunk," she said in her gentle voice, "he can, and I reckon he will. I'll make his potlikker, and I'll let him dunk. But I'd prefer to crumble my cornbread."

All the other nationally prominent southern whom Mrs. Fred serves, crumble their bread. But, she explained, they never ask for potlikker, even when they respond to the announcement cards she sends out that she is going to have her famous dish, turnip greens cooked with hog jowl. "I'll have to write and ask Governor Long about his potlikker," she decided. "That liquid that comes from the greens is potlikker—and apparently that was what he was talking about when he had that discussion with the newspapers, about whether it was right to dunk the cornbread, or crumble it."

"But as a matter of fact, we always thought of real potlikker, down south, as the water and juice from boiling a nice big country ham. I could, and I would, make him that, too, if he wants it; but it would be expensive. It would be a lot of trouble, but then, it's trouble getting the greens; we have to send into the country for them."

Whatever the governor wants, he will have, it appeared. There is more to Mrs. Fred than mere amusement in this subject that Governor Long has made a national culinary issue. It is a matter of reputation. She doesn't mean to be stumped by the Louisiana.

LEA AND CALDWELL SEEK DISMISSAL

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 30.—(AP)—Pleas to abate indictments returned by a United States grand jury sitting at Greenville, Tenn., against Colonel Luke Lea, Rogers Caldwell and J. Basil Ramsey, president of the old Holston Union National bank, were filed by counsel for the accused in United States court here today. The indictments charged conspiracy on the part of the three defendants to violate the national banking laws, and in another indictment Ramsey was accused of misapplying credits of the institution.

Neither indictment charged a loss of money by the bank as a result of the alleged offenses, said to have occurred nearly three years ago. In the plea filed here today it was set forth that the evidence upon which the indictments were based was hearsay and unsupported by facts. It was also contended that the indictments were improperly presented in that a grand jury sitting in Greenville, Tenn., returned the bills whereas the alleged offenses occurred in the city of Knoxville.

SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT IS FOCUSED ON COLLEGE BELLES

Luncheon Parties Lead In Gayeties for Today

The social spotlight is focused this week on college belles and visitors who have arrived in Atlanta to spend the Easter holidays and who will be the inspiration for a continuous round of social gayeties. Luncheon parties lead in number on today's social program with teas and dinners running a close second, these events to be followed by informal dances and bridge parties this evening. Misses Barbara Cheeswright, of Pasadena, Cal., and Marjorie Murphy, of Hartford, Conn., who returned with Miss Jane King from the fashionable Finch school in New York, will be the honor guests in the luncheon party given today by Misses Mary Goddard and Margaret Tate at the Piedmont Driving Club. Another luncheon planned for today at which college girls will be the central figures is that at which Miss Elizabeth Whitten will be hostess at the Capital City Club in honor of Miss Margaret Tilton, of Atlantic City, N. J., and Miss May Falls of Memphis, Tenn., who accompanied their classmate, Miss Elinor Smith, home from the Ogontz school in Philadelphia to spend the Easter vacation with Miss Smith and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. C. Smith.

Mrs. John E. Smith's luncheon announced for today will take place at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country Club, and will assemble 25 prominent young matrons. Miss Martha Goddard Morrow, of Washington, D. C., is numbered among the most popular spring visitors and is receiving a cordial welcome from her wide circle of Atlanta friends as the guest of Mrs. Bates Block. Miss Morrow will be the honor guest at the tea this afternoon given by Miss Anne Scott Harmon at her home on Ponce de Leon avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Meyer, of Akron, Ohio, are two prominent visitors in the city and this afternoon they will be tendered a tea by their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant Smith, at the Piedmont Driving Club.

Recent Bride Honored.

Mrs. Charles B. Fife was hostess yesterday afternoon at a bridge-ten at her home on Cascade road honoring Mrs. J. Henry Smart, a recent bride. The guests included Mesdames E. F. DeFreese, W. N. Ponder, T. E. Roberts, J. S. Nunnally, L. M. Abern, Arthur Robinson, Ben T. Jerome, H. W. Gullett, J. H. Phagan, George P. White, Ben F. Starr, J. H. Legien, Bob Bradley, Hazel Duckett, W. G. Boskin, F. H. Jackson, T. F. Cathcart, Emmett W. Brogdon and W. C. Griffith.

Mrs. Askew's Class.

Mrs. S. H. Askew will conduct a Bible class at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday, Thursday and Friday mornings at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. The Epistle of James which is the Bible study selected for the women's auxiliaries during the year will be studied by the class, and while it is intended primarily for the Bible teachers of the churches, all women of the church are urged to attend.

Atlantan Returns.

Miss Laurie K. Linthicum, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Pasadena, Cal., for the past ten weeks, will return home Wednesday. In Oakland Miss Linthicum visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Killingsworth, and cousin, Douglas Killingsworth, and as their guest she was lavishly entertained at many social functions in Oakland and San Francisco. In Pasadena Miss Linthicum was the guest of Mrs.

BILIOUSNESS

The Rev. J. J. Wisener, of Drake-town, Ga., says he has taken Black-Draught, when needed, since childhood, and he is past fifty years of age. "When I would get bilious," he says, "I would feel like shuffling along instead of walking. My head would swim, and I had such a dull, tired feeling, and I would feel dizzy and nauseated like I couldn't hold my head up. I found how much the Black-Draught helped me, and I took it. I quit having these bad spells, and find now I only have to take a few doses and I am good as new. Don't have to take much now. My health is good." Get the genuine Theodor's

Junior League Jottings

MRS. REGINALD FLEET, Editor

The April meeting of the Atlanta Junior League will take place Monday, April 6, instead of the regular date, Tuesday, April 7. The change has been made in order not to conflict with the opening date of the dog show which the Atlanta Kennel Club is presenting in co-operation with the Junior League.

The April meeting is a particularly important meeting, as it is the date for the annual election of officers. The nominating committee for the officers for 1931-32 is composed of Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, chairman, and Miss Virginia Torrance, Mrs. Lawrence Willet, Mrs. Henry Grady, Jr., and Mrs. Edgar Upton.

The dog show will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, April 7 and 8, at the Palais Penchree, The Junior League chairman for the dog show is Miss Catherine Erwin.

The premium list published by the kennel club for the dog show includes a statement both serious and humorous, which is quoted herewith:

"If it's heads, the Junior League wins."

"If tails, the Atlanta Kennel Club loses."

"The Atlanta Kennel Club has a very unusual arrangement with the Atlanta Junior League regarding this show. The kennel club guarantees all expenses and gives to the Junior League all profit. The Junior League can't lose a dime and the Atlanta Kennel Club can't make one."

"Atlanta Kennel Club shows have been profitable for many years without the assistance of the Junior League, or anyone else, but the profit has been small. The show has never had the proper local support. The outside entry has been many times larger than the local entry; where, as a matter of fact, the local entry should have been at least 80 per cent of the total."

"We hope this year that local dog owners will enter their dogs. The Henrietta Eggleston Memorial Hospital for Children, through the Junior League, will get every dollar of profit that that profit should be a substantial one. Both judged, Lieutenant Colonel Guggenheim and Mr. Penny, are not only contributing their services—they

Tea-Dance Honors Miss Smith's Visitors

Among the important affairs featuring the spring calendar for the college set, now on vacation, was the tea-dance at which Miss Elinor Smith was hostess yesterday at the Capital City Club, and Miss Mary Falls of Memphis, Tenn., classmate of Miss Smith's at Ogontz school near Philadelphia.

The ballroom was beautifully decorated with stately palms, ferns and lovely cut flowers. Receiving with Miss Smith and the two honor guests were Miss Marion Calhoun and Miss Emily Woodruff, of Columbus.

The invited guests included 200 members of the college society contingent and a number of attractive visitors.

Miss Charlotte King was hostess at a luncheon yesterday at the Capital City Club, honoring Miss Smith and her visitors. The guests included six close friends of the honor guests.

North Ave. School Gives Mardi Gras

Miss Anne Scott Harmon, president of the Athletic Association of North Avenue Presbyterian School, announced that the association will have a Mardi Gras Friday, April 10, which takes the place of the athletic animation that is given every spring. An interesting feature of the occasion will be the selection of the king and queen. The king will be selected by ballot from the student body. Each class will have a float on which their queen will ride. At the evening performance the queen of the Mardi Gras will be selected from all the contestants. An orchestra will provide music and there will be dancing. The Mardi Gras will be held in the school gymnasium and will be open from 3 to 8 p. m. Friends of the school are invited.

Business Women Meet

Executive board of the Business and Professional Women's Club meets Wednesday evening, April 1, at 7:30 o'clock in the club headquarters, 131 Forsyth avenue. Miss Letta Thompson, president, will preside, and a full attendance is requested.

Coterie Club Banquet.

The Coterie Club, a senior club of Young Judaea, commemorated its first anniversary with a banquet followed by a dance recently at the Jewish Educational Alliance. The banquet was given in cabaret style. The banquet also celebrated the Coterie Club's successful presentation of David Finck's immortal drama, "The Last Jew."

Edward M. Kahn, executive director of the Jewish Educational Alliance, and Joseph Cohn, leader of the club, were the principal speakers. Simon Wender presented as master of ceremonies for the occasion. Officers and members of the club are Joe Blass, president; Melvin I. Weinman, vice president; Louis Berchenko, secretary; Max Rittenbaum, treasurer; Nace R. Cohen, Meyer Levy, Edward R. Valida, Oscar Fine-roff, Leonard Greenbaum, Ned Cohen and Simon Wender.

Among the young ladies and guests present were Misses Sara Moldow, Rosalie Hirsch, Bloomie Blass, Sara Glustrom, Helen Geffen, Bernice Smullon, Rose Tuer, Dorothy Davis, Lillie Berchenko, Bertha Fisher, Ozna Tontak, Dora Gilner and Molly Russ. Mrs. Mord G. Foote, Edward M. Kahn, T. R. Blackmar and Nathan Blass.

Mrs. John Smith To Give Luncheon At Brookhaven

Mrs. John E. Smith will be hostess at a luncheon today at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country Club, the guests to include Mesdames George West, J. H. Hines, Percy Baker, W. C. Martin, Raymond Kline, Walter Hill, Ivan Allen, Charles LeRoux, Arthur Kitchings, H. Clay Moore, Carl Lewis, William Barwell, Hal Miller, Fred Rogers, Claude Frederick, Morton Smith, Harry Malaby, William Akers, Howard Motley, William Candler, Ada Trabent, Sperry, William McDougall and C. F. Forbergh and Charles Marshall.

There will be a meeting of the executive board of the Junior League on Friday, April 3, at 10:30 o'clock at the Piedmont Driving Club.

"White Columns of the Cotton Belt," by Preston Stevens, a Junior League husband, headed the list of contributions to the Magazine from Atlanta for the April issue. Two splendid photographs illustrating the text of his article accompanied Mr. Stevens' contribution.

The subject of the April issue of the Junior League Magazine is "Art and Architecture" and in its treatment of these fascinating subjects the magazine has maintained its high standard. Many prominent architects and artists contributed to the success of this issue. "The Jay Houses of Savannah," by Lucy Barrow McIntire, was an interesting contribution from the Savannah Junior League. The restoration of Williamsburg was discussed in a splendid article by Sarah M. Nutt, of Norfolk.

Mrs. Lawrence Willet, the city editor for the magazine, wrote a review of "Old New Orleans," by Frances Tinker and Edward LaRoque Tinker. Mrs. Trimble Johnson, the chairman of arts and interests, contributed a short article on the arts and interests activities of the league.

Junior League members will continue to serve as hostesses at the spring salon of the Martin Cadillac Company. The salon has attracted large numbers of people to see the new models of the company.

On Wednesday of last week the hostesses were Mrs. Edwin Burke, Mrs. William D. Ellis III, Mrs. Claude McGinnis and Miss Mary Goddard; on Thursday, Mrs. Harry Stearns, Jr., Mrs. John Fitts, Mrs. Jonathan Woody and Mrs. Robert Crichton; on Friday, Miss Sara Meadows, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Spalding and Mrs. Preston Arkwright, Jr.; on Saturday, Mrs. William Fulghum, Mrs. Keith Quarterman, Miss Catherine Norcross and Miss Palmer Dallis; on Monday, Miss Adair McCauley, Miss Elizabeth Spalding, Mrs. Oscar Davis and Mrs. Grosvenor Demis.

The hostesses for today are Mrs. Hooper Bennett and Mrs. Foster Hume. The hostesses for Wednesday are Mrs. Colquitt Carter, Jr., and Mrs. Nisbet Marge.

Kotex stays soft longer

One of the many reasons why you should demand this sanitary pad

KOTEX is soft, and it stays soft. It does not pack into chafing hardness after use. Millions of women have discovered that fact, and they are particular to specify Kotex.

One of the reasons why Kotex stays soft is the way in which it absorbs—quickly, scientifically over the entire length of the pad. Many other pads absorb in one concentrated area which soon becomes uncomfortable.

Kotex is guaranteed to last longer, stay soft longer, than any other sanitary pad. You can wear Kotex on either side, with no chance of possible embarrassment, with the same degree of efficiency. It is treated to deodorize. It is shaped to fit. And it is, of course, disposable.

WHEN YOU COOK YOUR easter ham REMEMBER THAT sugar WILL MAKE IT taste better

Sprinkle sugar generously over the ham before you put it in the oven to bake.

A BAKED HAM studded with cloves and coated with sugar is certainly an appetizing sight. But the real treat comes when you taste that ham and revel in its tangy-sweet, juicy goodness.

Ham, however, is not the only meat that tastes better by adding sugar. You'll be surprised at the way a dash of sugar plus a pinch of salt heightens the flavor of cheap cuts of meats during the stewing or braising process.

Think of this value of sugar as you plan your meals. Remember, too, that sugar added to vegetables gives them new taste-appeal. For proof just try a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt when you cook spinach, peas, carrots, cabbage or beans. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Miss Patterson Weds Mr. Hall At Ceremony in Clayton, Ala.

CLAYTON, Ala., March 30.—Of cordial social interest throughout Georgia and Alabama is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Lela Patterson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marion Patterson, to Julian Hall, of Dothan, Ala., which was solemnized yesterday morning at the home of the bride's parents here. Dr. C. H. Turner, pastor of the Clayton Baptist church, read the marriage service which was witnessed only by members of the bride's immediate family. The bride, who is of a lovely blonde type, was smartly gowned in a tailored ensemble of gray crepe, worn with a hat to match. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of gardenias and valley lilies.

Mrs. Hall, who was born and reared in Clayton, has been an acknowledged belle in Alabama social circles since finishing school. She was graduated in 1927 from the Woman's College at Montgomery, Ala., and she also attended Columbia University in New York. Her charm and personal magnetism have endeared her to a host of friends in Alabama and in Georgia, where she has often visited as the guest of friends in Atlanta and Gainesville. A representative of prominent southern families, Mrs. Hall traces her ancestry to include many influential figures. Her father is a well-known Alabama jurist, having been solicitor for the third judicial circuit for the past 16 years. Mr. Hall, a native of Dothan, Ala., is one of the most able and brilliant of the Alabama editors, having succeeded his father, the late W. T. Hall, as editor of the Dothan Eagle six years ago. He received his education at Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. Like his lovely bride, he belongs to prominent southern families, many members of which have achieved note as journalists. He is the cousin of Grover Hall, able editor of the Montgomery Advertiser.

Mrs. Black Hostess.
Mrs. E. Bates Black was hostess at a tea yesterday held at her home on Peachtree road in compliment to Miss Martha Morrow, of Washington, D. C., who arrived Sunday to be her guest for the Easter tea. Quantities of fragrant spring flowers were used as decorations and the center of the tea table in the dining room was adorned with a charming arrangement of calla lilies, roses and snapdragons.

A series of other parties will be given in compliment to Miss Morrow, Miss Anne Scott Hatton will entertain a few close friends of Miss Morrow at a tea today at her home on Peachtree road. Saturday, April 4, Mrs. Porter Langston will entertain, honoring Miss Morrow, who is her niece.

Easter Offering.
Woman's Society of the United Presbyterian church holds its annual pre-Easter thank offering meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mansfield, 532 Peoples street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. A musical program will be given in charge of Mrs. H. E. Storms. The Rev. Robert W. Burns, assistant pastor of the Peachtree Christian church, will give the Easter message. Mrs. W. T. McElveen will preside.

Marietta Garden Club Plants Mile Of Highway

MARIETTA, Ga., March 30.—The Marietta Garden Club met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee. Following the plan designed by Dr. McHatton, of the University of Georgia, for beautifying the highway through this county, Mrs. J. E. Massey for the highway committee of the club reported that one mile of the highway north of Marietta had been planted in redbud, crabapples and Cherokee roses, and that with the generous assistance of the First National bank, the highways on Church and Cherokee streets from the city limits to their intersection had been planted in silver-leaved maple and crepe myrtle. A donation of a bird-bath and two seats for the triangle opposite Mrs. Roy McCleskey's on Atlanta road has been made by the N. C. & St. L. railroad.

The property owners have co-operated enthusiastically with the garden clubs and thousands of crepe myrtle trees have been planted along the streets of the city the past month. The Marietta Garden Club will sponsor a bridge-tee and 42 party April 7.

Mrs. D. C. Cole and Mrs. Morgan McNeel were elected as delegates from the Marietta Garden Club to the meeting of the Garden Clubs of Georgia to be held in Savannah April 13 and 14.

REDDY IS ASHAMED TO GO HOME.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.
Shame makes cowards of us all. Strong and weak and big and small. —Reddy Fox.

That is true. When we are ashamed we are afraid—afraid of what others may say or think. And so we try to keep out of sight. And it happens sometimes that people are ashamed when there is no real reason for being ashamed. It was so with Reddy Fox. He was ashamed to go home, yet he had no real reason for being ashamed. In trying to get those young Marsh Hawks he had done nothing wrong. It was no more wrong for him to try to get them than it was for Whitey to try to catch a Mouse to feed them. And there was nothing to be ashamed of in the fact that he had been no match for those two great birds. One alone would have been too much for him, and it was two to one.

What was to do now? Reddy was ashamed to have Mrs. Reddy see him. He was ashamed to be seen by any one, but most of all by Mrs. Reddy. What would she think of him? What would she say?

"I just can't have her see me looking like this," he muttered as he licked his wounds. "I just can't do it." Yet he knew that he must go home sooner or later for he, too, had a family to be fed, and it wouldn't do to leave Mrs. Reddy to do all the hunting. She would be wondering why he didn't return and worrying for fear something had happened, and she with a big family to feed and watch over. At last he made up his mind. He would appear somewhat, although he was still a sorry sight, he crept out and started slowly toward home. He was stiff and lame and sore. It was all he could do to keep from whimpering. He heard Mrs. Reddy bark. That was meant for him. He didn't answer. That was because he was ashamed. How could he go home looking as he did and taking nothing for those hungry youngsters?

Just then he had a bit of luck. A Mouse darted out from under an old log. Reddy forgot that he was lame, stiff and sore. In a flash he had pounced on that Mouse and leaped on it. But with every step he felt more ashamed.

So at last he limped out of the bushes that surrounded his home. Mrs. Reddy was sitting on the doorstep while six woolly, light-bright-eyed foxes rolled and tumbled about her. For just an instant Mrs. Reddy grinned when she saw Reddy. He didn't see it for he wasn't looking at her, which was just as well, perhaps. She took to her feet and came to meet him. She took the Mouse and gave it to one of the youngsters and at once the others tried to take it away from him. When Mrs. Reddy began to lick Reddy's wounds, Reddy began to lick Reddy's wounds. Had she been a human being she probably would have said: "Well, what have you been doing, monkeying with a buzz saw?" Being a wise old fox she kept her questions but did what she could to make Reddy feel better. She knew that she would hear all about it in time.

Some Young Trees Must Be Staked to Something Straight and Strong to Keep Them Erect—If a Girl's Character Is Not Sufficient Safeguard for Her, Her Parents Cannot Furnish a Substitute Safeguard With Alarm Clocks—You Can't Get Love By Begging for It.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD: What time should the boys have a girl's home? I am in my early teens and live with my sister and her husband. They are good to me but they make the boys leave at 9 o'clock. I have been going with a boy whom I have grown very fond of and I think it is an ideal place for romance but it is better than a parked automobile. Her mother allows the boys to stay as long as they want to and naturally my "best" thinks he should have the same privilege. He has a car and wants me to ride with him at night but my sister will not consent. We have no living room, so when my friends come we have to sit in the car. Should I do as my sister says or should I make my own decisions? I don't think it would do any good to talk it over with my sister.

ANSWER: Your sister is giving you the most precious privilege that anyone could give a young girl; a chaperoned home. Don't fail to appreciate it. If you are going to school, as all fifteen-year-old girls should be doing, she is exactly right to insist that your boy friends leave early. No car can sit up late and do her school work properly. There are holiday evenings when that hour would be rather early, but you should defer to your sister's wishes even then.

It is unfortunate that you have no place to entertain the friends other than the car. If you have no living room you surely have a kitchen. It is not an ideal place for romance but it is better than a parked automobile. And, no doubt, if your sister knew you were in sound of her voice and her chaperone she would permit later dates on holiday evenings.

In spite of your protest that talking it over with your sister would do no good I suggest that you do just that. Tell her how you value your home with her. Tell her that you have no disposition to defy her wishes. Tell her that you want her chaperone and her watchful care over you but that you would like to make arrangements to see your friends under her roof and that you think you ought to have a little more liberty about the hour of saying "Goodnight."

If she should refuse your request, don't be afraid that it will ruin the boys away. After all the boys know better than you do just why your sister makes stiff rules. They may chafe under them but they respect them. A girl cannot be kept straight by rules and regulations but she can be started to grow straight. There is a mimosa tree in my garden that insists on leaning to one side. I must stake it up to something straight and strong to keep it upright. If I take the stake away before it has accustomed itself to going straight it bends again, but if I leave the stake there long enough the slender sapling has, at least, a good start in the right direction. Your sister is taking that precaution with her young sister and she is very wise and kind, though it may not appear so to you now.

DAUGHTER'S ALLIANCE WITH BURKE
Great Trial for Missouri Farmer
MILAN, Mo., March 30.—(NANA) It has been a great shock to the Porter family, industrial and substantial Missouri folk, to learn that the man they accepted as Richard F. White is really Fred Burke, the notorious gangster from Chicago.

Born to Porter, the father of the family, believed his daughter, Bonnie, had married a respectable and industrious man. Though some folks thought that this "peculiar" Porter was confident Burke was a real estate operator in Kansas City and that his business was important enough to keep him away from home weeks at a time.

Everybody in Milan and Green City both near the Porter farm believe Bonnie and her family were victims. They say Burke married the girl to aid in recreating himself as Richard F. White. Through his marriage, they argue, he gained the shelter of a most Missouri farm and acquired some of the respectability of the neighborhood—for a time, at least. Still, the neighbors stated that the one most freely expressing themselves as having been "taken in" by the gangster. Among the many incidents of Burke's life on the farm, the one most generally recalled is that last Christmas when the parents of the 20-year-old wife presented her with a Bible. Burke expressed his pleasure in the gift and said that "every home should contain a family Bible." They retell this story grimly.

Brookhaven Club Will Feature Easter Luncheon

A special Easter luncheon will be served at Brookhaven, the Capital City Country Club, next Sunday at which appropriate favors and decorations will be an attractive feature. These midday dinners at Brookhaven are proving popular occasions each Sunday and throughout the spring and summer groups of congenial friends and family parties will assemble on the broad terrace and in the spacious dining room of the club for the noon meal.

Among those who dined at Brookhaven last Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Kerfoot Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Riley, Mrs. Julia Murphy Whitehead, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Daniel, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. North, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Cunningham, of Richmond, Va.; Miss Frances North, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Adair, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seydl and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Graves.

STYLES BY ANNETTE
NEW YORK, March 30.—(P)—Lou Tellegen, matinee idol at whom the ladies were heaving sighs away back in the Roosevelt administration, has obtained a new nap and will shortly reappear at the old perfect lover stand.

Lou, nearing 50 and—two weeks ago—looking it, has taken a face rejuvenation treatment, and now looks like youth again. Free of wrinkles, dewy, and glowing, he has been able to sign up a movie producer who will present him in hand-on-heaving breast postures for the benefit of the daughters and granddaughters of the girls he once set a-sighing. It wasn't a face lift. Instead Elizabeth Lee, specialist in such matters, daubed his face with a colorless lotion. The treatment took about ten days. First Lou turned yellow, then brown, then red, then pink. During this changing process he eschewed public appearance. Now, wearing the complexion of a lad with his first pair of long pants, he is presentable again.

"Still a little pink," he admitted, "but that will go away." Details of the job he has obtained are withheld for the present. Lou recently admitted the evidence of his face by writing a backward-of-the-drawing book called "Women Have Been Kind." Yes, that's what it was about. Now he's in shape for collecting more kindness.

Tech High School Voting Adds $150 To Athletic Fund
Tech High school's "popularity and superlative contest" raised more than $150 to be used for spring activities, it was announced Monday. More than 8,000 ballots were cast in the first contest and fully 1,000 more were voted in the final selections. At one cent from each student, the sum raised will be used to apply on baseball, swimming, track, tennis and similar activities. G. Y. Smith of the English department, brought in the largest number of votes, 2275.

Among the selections were: Best all-around senior, Mike Welch; junior, Pete Moore; freshman, Durwood Price; most popular member of the Rainbow staff, Bill Emory; most popular editor of Telescan, Bill Loefer; most popular honor roll man, J. E. Bradford; most popular commissioner of officers, James Henderson; most popular student, Bill Loefer. Others were: Most popular faculty member, Rut Numan; best debater, Phil Jordan; best declaimer, Bill Loefer.

Drugs Inducing Hypnotic Sleep Used To Supplant Anaesthetics
BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE.
INDIANAPOLIS, March 30.—(P) Drugs producing hypnotic sleep as a substitute for anaesthetics in operations were described to the American Chemical Society today.

The chemists were informed of more than 1,000 successful operations already performed in this sleep. The hypnotic still is quite limited, but there is hope of a sleep deep enough for any kind of operation.

Atmosphere of Art To Surround Englishman's Visit With Mellon

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(P)—Two quiet, retiring men whose policies control the fiscal affairs of two nations will meet in Washington soon for a visit in an atmosphere both low-keyed and high-toned.

Montague Norman, governor of the Bank of England, who prefers gardening to gold and loves books and art, will be the guest of Secretary Mellon, whose love of art has moved him to gather a noted collection.

Just when Norman will arrive has not been announced, but he intends to visit Secretary Mellon before he leaves for Europe on April 14. He arrived in New York last week.

Governor Norman, whose frequent trips to the United States always give rise to many rumors, is even more retiring than Secretary Mellon. At home he never attends any functions except official ones, and is never seen in the theater. He never takes a vacation. He prefers instead his modest home and his garden.

The secretary also is retiring. He avoids public gaze and delights in many of the things Governor Norman enjoys.

The two men undoubtedly will discuss problems confronting the two nations.

EXCEPTIONALLY SLIMMING JACKET DRESS.
Here's a stunning jacket dress for town, travel or resort. It was originally in a thin wool mixture weave in a light navy blue mixture. The upper part of the dress and revers of the jacket displayed smart contrast in turquoise blue plain woolen. The box-plaited skirt arrangement is essentially length giving and slenderizing.

Style No. 298 may be had in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. For later wear, pale blue flat crepe silk with dusty pink is ideal combination. Shantung, linen, men's shirting and many rayons also appropriate. Size 36 requires 5 yards 39-inch with 1 yard 39-inch contrasting. NEW CATACOMBS FOUND AT NAPLES
NAPLES, Italy, March 30.—(P)—A new system of catacombs with a number of tombs has been uncovered near the St. Eframo church here. Father Bellucci, who directed the search for the catacombs, had become convinced from old documents that the passages would be found near the church walls.

Fishing Party Saved.
MIAMI, Fla., March 30.—(P)—Police Captain Forest E. Nelson, Mrs. Nelson, Miss Thelma Benton and Max Lenhoff, policeman, were rescued from Biscayne Bay last night when their 24-foot cabin cruiser sank in 8 feet of water at a short distance from shore. Lenhoff said the party encountered rough weather in the ocean while on a fishing trip and several waves washed completely over the boat, forcing them to pump continuously until they were inside the bay.

SECRET PLACES

BY JOAN SUTHERLAND

INSTALLMENT VIII.

She had her affairs—the one with D'Arblay, in particular, which was already becoming a little less convenient and tiresome. She doubted if she would have kept it up except for the opposition it had aroused, and D'Arblay's great wealth, which enabled her to have a very good time, for his personality more than once had offended her, as did his manner. He had a way of treating her as if he considered she was his property; and Greta, far too independent and far too selfish ever to be dominated by any one man or really to consider his feelings, resented this in no half-hearted way.

On the morning when Toni was scurrying through her dressing, full of delight thinking of the hours ahead, Greta was languid and enervated. That Toni, whom she regarded as little more than a child, should have captured such a man as Feodor Staire with his wealth, his social preeminence, and his personality that made him one of the most sought-after men in Paris, infuriated her. She was wretched with jealousy, comparing the relative dullness and obscurity of her own marriage with the brilliant future before her younger sister; the slight to herself, the comments of her acquaintances, the thought that any man could prefer Toni to herself, was a bitter pill for her to swallow, and her temper was at its worst this hot morning. She had spoken snappily to Ronald before he had gone off to his work, had snatched at her hair, and now, after finishing her toilette had gone to the telephone. For once she had no engagement for luncheon, and the prospect of her own society appealed her. Something must be done—she wondered what. There was always her mother's apartment, but generally it was full of either young people, so much younger than herself that they bored her to tears, or her mother's friends. Failing them it meant a tête-à-tête with Lady Alice, and for that she had no desire. She knew quite well how her mother viewed her flirtation with D'Arblay. Still, she could not and would not be alone; and going to the telephone she endeavored to make some engagement.

Bad luck awaited her; two of her friends were lunching out, a third was desolate but she had a sore throat and didn't think it was wise for her to see anybody. Greta hung up the receiver after that, a sneer turning down her lovely mouth. She understood Madeleine's sore throat; she had a new and exciting affair only too well.

After that, in desperation, she rang up D'Arblay and received from him the invitation she knew that he would be delighted to give.

"Lunch with me? I only wish you would. Where would you like to go? The Ritz, or is there any other place? Armonville or Pre Catalan? Perhaps you'd motor out with me some where?"

At the end of the telephone Greta frowned.

"I hate the country," she said, "just hate it. What could we do, D'Arblay, out in the country? No, the Ritz, I think."

"Very well—the Ritz at half-past one. I'll get you our special table. And then, perhaps, afterwards, well, we can think of afterwards when we're lunching. Shall I have a party, or do you want to be just by ourselves?"

Greta was aware he had sounded rather hurt that his suggestion of the country had been so curtly negatived, and that would not do.

"Oh, I suppose we shall have to have a party," she said. "Of course, I'd much prefer to be just by ourselves. D'Arblay, but people are talking a little, you know. I think we'd better not. Some wretched friend of Ronald's might be there."

"All right," said D'Arblay's voice along the wire. "I'll fix the party. Au revoir, my dear, till then."

So that was that. Greta hung up the receiver, finished her dressing, looked at the time, saw it was still only a quarter to twelve, and yawning wearily strolled out of the room, ordered her car, and amused herself by glancing through the daily papers until the car came round.

It was a glorious morning, already very hot, and when Greta went downstairs to the street she wondered how long she was going to endure Paris. Ronald could not get away, that she knew, for at least another month. That would bring them to the middle of July. And Paris in July—desolating, impossible! And then she remembered that Madeleine had decided to take the very delightful small Chateau St. Bride, not very far from Lady Alice's house in Brittany, for the summer. It had once belonged to an uncle, and was now let to a wealthy American. She also knew that Madeleine would be perfectly willing to ask anybody Greta herself wanted, so long as he did not interfere with her special affairs of the moment. Why not take advantage of such good luck? And why not arrange that some attractive man should be of the party? Ronald could not object. After all, what harm was she doing? Merely flirting mildly to pass the time.

Perhaps she had better call in at her mother's. It might be just as well to find out what Lady Alice's luncheon engagement was. She had no desire to find herself at the next table to her or to any of her friends, and she knew quite well that if Lady Alice did lunch out, it was usually at the Ritz. So she gave her chauffeur the order. "I'll wait. Don't disturb her for a moment," and went into the salon.

There, rather to her surprise, she saw a tall, broad-shouldered figure at the window, who turned round sharply on seeing her, and she came face to face with Feodor Staire. Just for a second he stood quite still on seeing her, then bowed his rather formal bow, and Greta, no longer bored, walked across the room towards him.

"Why, Mr. Staire, how do you do? At least, I suppose I may as well call you Feodor, since you're going to marry Toni. This is the first time I've seen you since your engagement. May I offer you my good wishes?"

She held out her hand, letting her blue eyes meet his in a long, grave look. It was the way Greta usually looked at men when she wished to attach them to herself—a questioning, innocent, wondering look—a look that made them curious to find out just what she knew of life, and whether she were really the icicle she seemed, or capable of warmth and passion beneath that lovely, languid exterior. That look, and the golden notes of her voice, seldom failed, especially when she used the tone she did now, with her lovely rare smile.

"Please come and talk to me. I want to hear all about things. It's so interesting to think you're going to be my brother-in-law. I'd like to be friends. Few men would want to be friends with her and she knew it. Therefore, it was so much the best way to suggest right off at the start that no other relation was possible. It made them begin to wonder if they could change her mind. But this man was different. She did not see the response in his eyes that she was wont to see, and she changed her tactics.

"It's so extraordinary to me," she said, as he sat down beside her where she indicated, "that Toni's going to be married to my little sister Toni! I've always thought of her as a child; she's so adorable, so fresh and young. You'll take care of her, Feodor, won't you?"

He took out a cigarette case, opened it and offered it to her.

"Yes, I intend to do that," he said. "Toni is honoring me by marrying me."

"Honoring you?" Greta looked at him. "That sounds so funny," she said, suddenly smiling. "I can't think of my little sister honoring anybody, but just making them a most delightful pet. It's only because I can't visualize her grown-up. Our baby—she's always been such a darling! But anyway, now I've just got to face it, haven't I? Though we'll miss her terribly. One's always used to having Toni around; she's so very much there, she's so vital."

She saw at once that her only chance with this man at present was to praise Toni, and she was careful now to speak in the sudden, enthusiastic, confidential way that would make him feel she was absolutely genuine.

"I wonder if you know what Ronald's engagements are for tomorrow at lunch time?" he said, ignoring all she had said about Toni. "He's alone me day before yesterday that he had something he wanted to talk to me about. Have you any idea if he is free tomorrow?"

Greta shook her head; once more her eyes were wide open.

Stribling's Plane Crashes When He Is Forced Down in Storm; Crackers Wield Big Bats To Trim Athletics; Face Browns Today

Bunny Hearn, the tiny left-hander, bought late last season by the Crackers, has shown so much stuff this spring that Manager Johnny Dobbs already is counting the goose eggs Bunny is certain to hatch.

Hearn did much of the pitching to win that 1-0 victory over the Yankees in Montgomery Sunday. In earlier exhibition starts here he has shown everything a left-hander should have.

The midget is the proprietor of a curve ball that is as good as any pitcher in the league has shown. In Nashville recently Freddie Russell quoted Blackie Carter on the subject of Hearn's curve ball as follows:

Blackie Carter leaned against the Vol batting cage Monday, getting ready to take his two cuts up there. The conversation turned to pitchers and curve balls.

"This Bunny Hearn down at Atlanta had the best one in the league last season," sputtered Blackie. "And he really knew how to use it on right-hand hitters."

"You had to swing about six inches before the ball got there. Just before it got to the plate it just sort of exploded."

Which is about the best description of a curve heard to date. With Hearn ready to go from the start and Ray Francis, the mayor of Chisel Switch, itching to whip them across again, the Crackers should be pretty well fixed for southpaw pitching.

ANOTHER GEORGIA PRODUCT.

An Athens bat manufacturing company is putting a new lightweight bat into the market this spring that baseball men say will solve a great need in the game. The new wood is lighter than ash yet will stand just as much punishment, the makers say. Credit Georgia ingenuity with another tally.

FREE BATTING LESSON.

"Lefty" O'Doul, hitting clean-up for the Dodgers, denies he is a "guess" hitter and gives the following useful rule he follows at the plate:

"I stand in the batter's box easily and naturally, as comfortably as possible, and always stand prepared to hit a fast ball. If the pitcher throws a curve or 'pulls the string' I can see it in time to switch. But if I stood for a curve or a change of pace pitch and the fellow in the box crossed me with a fast one I couldn't get my bat around in time to hit it."

This is a free hitting lesson for youngsters. Go out and quit thinking and sock them a mile.

DOG OWNERS BASHFUL.

Atlanta dog owners have been strangely backward about entering their potential champions in the nineteenth annual Atlanta Kennel Club show that will be held April 7 and 8.

This is learned from officials of the show who are keen on making this renewal the greatest ever.

At the last check-up there were 125 dogs entered from outside Atlanta and only 75 from inside the city limits. Fearing that Atlanta owners have overlooked the early closing date the committee has extended the lists until today (Tuesday) in hopes of having the usual representative Atlanta field.

HOW PUND STIRRED ROCKNE.

Knute Rockne not long ago in writing of his greatest thrills in football listed a kick Peter Pund gave him on Grant Field as one of the biggest moments.

"In grading thrills of gridiron action, an experienced observer has difficulties. But I sat in the stands at Atlanta one afternoon and saw a magnificent Notre Dame team that seemed headed for its annual victory over Georgia Tech suddenly recoil before the furious pounding of one man—Pund, center. Nobody could stop him. Notre Dame fought like tigers—but this man was a tiger-tamer. I counted 20 scoring plays that this man ruined. With this giant dervish shattering them it was a sight for the gods. We were hopelessly beaten—but I had the thrill of my life to see great fighters go down in defeat before a greater fighter."

It was just like Rockne to list that feat as one of his thrills. And as for that he had plenty of company that day.

One Land-Locked Tar Yearns for Salt Water

Mick Richardson, of New Orleans, Here Dreaming of "Windjammer" and Gulf Races.

By Herb Clark.

THERE'S a breath of the romance-filled air of the gulf stream and deep water in Atlanta. T. P. Richardson brought it up from New Orleans. "Mick"—he'll answer to that six or eight times, by his own count, faster than to anything else—is letting it be almost overwhelmed, however, by diffusion with a nostalgia which makes those who pass him turn and wonder at the cause of such depthless grief.

For Mick Richardson is in Atlanta, 230 miles—and that as Captain Frank Hawks' crew flies—from water, salt water, that is—there's really no other kind. And almost 700 miles away, nearly inside Havana harbor, is a sailing gem, the schooner Windjammer.

The Carolina freshmen similarly defeated Wake Forest's yearlings, 9-0.

STRIB CRASHES NEAR HOUSTON; NONE ARE HURT

Motor Quits in Driving Rain and Fighter Is Forced Down.

HOUSTON, Texas, March 30.—(Special) Forced down after a long battle in a blinding rain storm, W. L. (Young) Stribling, Georgia's heavy weight title contender, crashed in his cabin monoplane at Kendallton, 40 miles east of Houston, this afternoon.

The fighter was returning to his home in Georgia from an exhibition in Mexico yesterday. Five were in the plane when it crashed in the pasture but none were reported injured.

"Pa" Stribling, the fighter's father and manager, stated over long distance tonight that all are safe and that he and two members of the party would resume their journey home by train in the morning. W. L. will remain with his plane for a couple of days. When repairs are completed, he will fly home.

According to Pa Stribling, W. L. had landed the plane in a pasture but crashed into the clump of trees before he could stop the plane. The landing was made on a downgrade, adding to the speed of the ship as it landed.

Beckler, W. L., and Pa, William Blanchard, of Miami; J. L. McCord, of Quitman, and Jack Bell, sports editor of the Miami Herald, were in the plane.

Stribling-Schmeling But Seen for Chicago

CHICAGO, March 30.—(AP)—The proposed Schmeling-Stribling fight bunched up for air again today with the arrival of the William Carey, president of Madison Square Garden, New York, and Joe Jacobs, manager of the German titleholder.

The fight was in conference today with Sheldon Clark, wealthy Chicago sportsman, and George Getz, one of the members of the Illinois state athletic commission.

Neither Carey nor Clark would commit themselves on the subject of the championship fight, or its proposed site, which has been assumed to be Chicago, and the date June 10. Carey said he would have no statement to make at any time, and that when any announcement was made it would come from Clark.

All those concerned in the heavy-weight situation may appear before the state athletic commission at its meeting tomorrow.

Jacobs said he had been reading in the papers about a possible contest between Schmeling and Mickey Walker, world middleweight champion, but that it was all news to him.

"I have talked with General Clinchy, president of the National Boxing Association, and as long as the N. B. A. recognizes Stribling as the outstanding challenger, I don't see how anyone who should consider boxing Walker."

Clark and Carey, Jacobs and others conferred until late tonight.

"If the fight comes to Chicago, as I hope it will, I shall insist that 50 per cent of the profits be devoted to the five major charities of Chicago," Clark said.

"All I can say right now is it looks pretty good for Chicago," he said. "There are several angles to be ironed out, and I think everything will come out all right. It may be three or four days before we can settle things. I shall remain here until Wednesday, then will leave for Excelsior, Springs, Minn., of the struggle, panther, Schmeling. The guy is resting down there now."

Johnny Risko Bows To Stanley Poreda

NEW YORK, March 30.—(AP)—A brave youngster from Jersey City, black-belted Stanley Poreda, served notice on the heavyweight class tonight that he will be a potent figure to contend with in the future.

Poreda, after a steady parade through the lesser lights of the division, stepped out against his first major opposition tonight and thoroughly lambasted Johnny Risko, puncher from Cleveland veteran, before a pleased crowd of 8,200. Despite the odds, Poreda landed the knockout blow in the eighth round.

Referee Kid McPartland gave his vote to Risko while the two judges swung the verdict in favor of the up-and-comer.

Poreda seemed none too anxious to take chances, and through the later stages of the melee he let old Johnny bull him a bit and land with sweeping lefts and rights to the body. But through the first five rounds Poreda battered Risko about as he pleased, snapping his head back with long lefts, crossing solid rights to the chin, tangling him helplessly in clinches when they came to close quarters.

The Associated Press score chart counted six rounds for Poreda, two for Risko and two even. The third City youth scaled 198-12 pounds; Risko 194.

Downes Finally Scores on 'Yale'

ATHENS, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—Little Aussie Downes, the pride of Georgia, ran for a touchdown against Yale this afternoon, but it took ten rehearsals before cameramen finally recorded his feat.

White-clad figures representing Georgia's starting team against Yale, and stout Bulldogs in Yale blue recorded the feat for posterity and Howard Jones' series of famous plays of 1930. The pictures will be shown about the country as a part of Jones' series of pigskin problems.

Harry J. Mehre, head Bulldog coach, explained to the squad "mike" how the play worked, for the delectation of movie fans.

Jack Simpson Bows To Sutter in First Round of Net Tourney

SCORES GATHER TO PAY TRIBUTE TO E. S. BARNARD

Late American League Head To Be Buried in Cleveland Today.

CLEVELAND, March 30.—(P)—Hundreds of persons—baseball fans, players and former players, bankers, businessmen and laborers—were here tonight to pay final tribute to Ernest Sargent Barnard.

Among the notables were Kenesaw M. Landis, national baseball commissioner; Harry Grabiner, secretary of the White Sox and personal representative of Charles A. Comiskey, owner. They, with the other clubowners of the American league, and John A. Heydler, president of the National league, will act as honorary pallbearers.

Mrs. Mary Sargent Barnard, of Parkersburg, W. Va., mother of the late American league head, arrived today and joined the widow.

The funeral ceremony tomorrow will be at Masonic temple, under auspices of Allenby Commandery No. 73, Knights Templar.

After burial in the mausoleum at Knollwood cemetery, attending baseball leaders will leave for Spencer, Ind., to attend the funeral on Wednesday of Ben Johnson, whom Barnard succeeded as league president four years ago and who followed the Cleveland in death by a few hours.

One Land-Locked Tar Yearns for Salt Water

Wall's schooner from Tampa, by a slim stretch of water. The Windjammer, winner of the race last year, is slowly cutting that lead down. The good little craft wants another victory.

Two pals from the Crescent City, members of the syndicate which owns the Windjammer, are with Commodore Tullis.

Duty's Call.

MICK RICHARDSON is another member of the group. Just before the schooner left New Orleans for the race, which began from St. Petersburg Saturday, Richardson was called to Atlanta by business affairs. Two others of the owners were kept from going by the realm of commerce. The call of duty is stronger than that of the sea.

So Atlanta is not alone in having a visitor who's sniffing the breeze and looking at canvas. Last year Richardson was one of the group of six who put the Windjammer over the waters and into Havana harbor ahead of the field. They made the trip in 41 hours.

Slower Race.

THIS year, figuring that the race began at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, 41 hours would have been up at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

Just about the time you were rolling over and asking puzzle for another minute's rest, the Windjammer should have been letting her anchor to under the shadow of old Morris's historic walls. And Mick Richardson can't understand it. He's straining with his fellows at sea. He's pushing the Windjammer along, so that too much excess time shall not have elapsed when the mudhook finally rattles out. He's blowing at canvas so that his sweet little ship will overtake the upstart Haligonian.

Not an Excuse.

"YOU KNOW," he'll muse, "there's no excuse for that Haligonian being out in front. Fast little boat, yeah. But not fast enough to touch the Windjammer."

Richardson and Tullis are the nucleus of the New Orleans group. For 15 years they've been sailing together, starting with little skiffs and gradually acquiring bigger craft and welcoming recruits to their ranks.

They broke up during the war, joining Uncle Sam's navy. They reorganized forces after the armistice.

Old at Game.

THEY'VE been sailing in these St. Petersburg-Havana races for years. Two years ago they bought Crabbe's Windjammer. The New Yorker built himself a new craft, the Windward II, and with it won the New York-Bermuda race last summer.

The Windjammer is all the boat I want, though," Richardson said Monday night as he awaited word from the race. "She's some craft. Gee, I wish I was on her. That's a great sport, sailing. And the Havana trip is a great one, too. Pretty, the old Gulf."

"Gee, I wish I was on her."

MOONEY PLAYS MATCH TODAY; STARS VICTORS

Rain Delays Most of First Round of New Orleans Meet.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—(P)—Less than one-third of the scheduled first round matches were played today in the annual New Orleans Country Club invitation tennis tournament, start of play being delayed by rain, but the three seeded men who played won their matches with ease.

Play was void of the spectacular as the drizzle deadened the court surfaces and allowed the playing of only five of the 16 first round matches.

Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, seeded number 1, outstroked and outgeneralized his first-round opponent, Jack Simpson, of Atlanta, South Atlantic doubles champion, winning 6-1, 6-2.

George Lott, of Chicago, seeded number 2, and favored to meet Sutter in the finals barring upsets, defeated John Barr, of Dallas, Texas, doubles titlist, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1.

The other seeded players of the day, James Quick, of Dallas, doubles champion, with Barr in their home state, made short work of his meeting with Louis Lange, New Orleans municipal, the Texan taking 6-1, 6-3.

In the other matches Quin Connolly, of Rice Institute, Houston, eliminated Fred Baggs, New York veteran, 6-7, 6-3, and in the day's only three-set match, Charles Hume, of Tulane University, won 6-0, 3-6, 6-4, from Jack Potter, Houston player.

John Van Ryn, of Philadelphia, who with Lott defends the tournament doubles title, was leading Jack Norton, of Houston, 2-0, in games in their first set when play was halted by a steady drizzle of rain which concluded the day's events. They will meet again tomorrow morning.

First round matches yet to be played will match Jack Mooney, of Atlanta, with Graham Hardy, of Austin; Frankie Parker, Milwaukee, with Dan Murray, New Orleans; Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, with William Kline-Smith, New Orleans; Morton Busch, Austin, with Douglas O'Kelley, New Orleans; Jake Hess, Houston, vs. Perry Eastman, New Orleans.

Legion Coaching Work Begun by Kid Elberfeld

There is another war and this time it is in the field of the American Legion. The LaGrange post is getting behind their baseball program in a big way.

The LaGrange post is getting behind their baseball program in a big way. The smaller boys will be put into a group and the older boys into another. They will be taught at different hours.

When the season gets going the county of Troup will be divided into teams and they will play a championship. Each team will be managed by some legionnaire. When the season is done an all-star nine will be selected to participate in the state tournament.

Many—and More.

SOME three or four hundred boys were at the field Monday. The number is expected to grow as the word gets around.

The Tabasco Kid was not at all daunted. He faced the swarm of youngsters with his old, crackling chuckle and soon had them working. They took it with a grand enthusiasm.

There was one rather human little interlude to the day about lunch time. The Kid was meeting the men up town. He was introduced to one merchant who spoke up and said: "Mr. Elberfeld, I remember when you played at Athens against the University of Georgia when the Giants stopped there more than 20 years ago."

What a Kick!

"WERE you the third baseman in that game?" asked the Kid quickly.

"No, but I remember you and he had a fight," said the merchant. "So do I," said the Kid. "I haven't forgot that punch even if it was 25 years ago. I've been looking for him ever since to ask him why he didn't enter the ring," chuckled the Kid.

Other cities of Georgia, where the legion posts are behind the Americanization plan and the sandlot kids, will have the Tabasco Kid visit them later. The Pied Piper will be there all this week.

GEORGIA ALLEN WINS.

WAYCROSS, Ga., March 30.—Miss Georgia Allen won the elimination putting tournament for the women of the Okefenokee Golf Club from Mrs. H. A. Stallings here. The prizes are being awarded by the Blackshear Manufacturing Company and Bennett's Drug Store.

Judge Out of City, Babe Out of Court

TAMPA, Fla., March 30.—(P)—George H. Ruth, of New York city, better known as "Babe of the Yankees," will not appear in federal court here to answer a $50,000 suit, for the present at least, said court officials today. The suit, involving a real estate transaction, was filed in state court at St. Petersburg early in February, and transferred to federal district court here. It had not been placed on the docket today, and Federal Judge Akerman, before whom it would come up, was out of town.

Bluebirds Defeat Douglasville, 3-2

A single, ripped through the infield by Puerron, sent Tucker racing across the plate from third base in the ninth inning to give U. S. B. a 3-2 decision over the Douglasville High nine on the diamond at Piedmont Park Monday afternoon in the first of the local prep games.

Tucker, hurling for the Bluebirds, let the invaders down with only three hits and struck out 14 in the process. Bridges gave up six hits while fanning nine of the Bluebirds. Martin and Puerron led the U. S. B. batting attack.

ACE OF ROBIN STAFF TO WIRE OFFICE TODAY

Robinson Knows Nothing of Dazzler's Acceptance of Salary.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30.—(P)—The St. Petersburg Times says Arthur "Dazzler" Vance will wire acceptance of terms for the 1931 season with the Brooklyn National league club tomorrow morning, and report immediately at Macon, Ga. Vance, talking by telephone from Clearwater, Fla., tonight confirmed an earlier conversation that he had agreed to terms offered by President Frank York. He said he preferred the matter of salary be made public by Mr. York.

The speed ball artist had been holding out for $25,000. Manager Wilbert Robinson tonight said at Macon, and had been offered $23,000.

Advised that Robinson had stated he knew nothing of the contract being accepted, Vance said he did not expect Robinson to know of it as he had delayed wiring President York as he knew York would not be reached at his office tonight. "I am wiring my acceptance of the terms in the morning," he said.

Vance said he was in good condition, having worked out daily for the past month. He said he would leave at once for Macon.

Robby Knows Nothing of Deal.

MACON, Ga., March 30.—(P)—Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, tonight said so far as he knew "Dazzler" Vance, Robin holdout, had not signed a contract for the 1931 season.

"I don't believe it's so," he said. Manager Robinson said he had not been advised if club officials had reached an agreement with Vance and was "certain" he would have been notified.

"Ask Vance," was Robinson's first reply and when informed Vance had told the St. Petersburg Times he had reached an agreement, the manager was still skeptical. Robinson confirmed Vance's statement as quoted in the Times in regard to salary figures. He said the speed ball artist had been offered $23,000 and was holding out for $25,000. He said he believed Vance would accept $24,000 if offered.

THE SPORT-LIGHT

By H. H. H. H.

The Long Trek.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 30.—It seemed only fitting for one interested in sport and competition to come to Augusta and see the end of the long trek. This happens to be the last stop of the wandering rovers of golf, the professionals who started out last November on their way west to tackle the midwest and the Rocky Mountain country, to move on to the winds of the Pacific and then swing back across the continent again through Texas, Oklahoma and Florida, and finally, after the north and south at Pinehurst, to close out the big act at Augusta in the southeastern open. No one else in sport has traveled so far, has covered as much ground and has faced such a sporting proposition. These golf professionals play their own way. They pay for railroad tickets and hotel bills. They stand to lose from $2,000 to $4,000, but they get only what they earn in battle, what they produce from skill. If they are not good enough to finish in the money, they get nothing. If they are good enough to win, they can pick up from $1,000 to $10,000 in one tournament.

BUT they get only what they earn. This seems to be a great proposition to apply to all professional sport. There are now too many in the professional game, including boxing, who earn $5 and collect $10,000.

The promoters who go in for this are, largely, saps. The average golf professional has to be a chance-taker, more of a sportsman at heart than most amateurs, as amateurs stand today. They ask for no guarantees and they won't give them if they asked. Any competitor in sport is worth what he can earn, and no more. Since sport is his business, he is worth only what he can get in at the gate, either as an individual or as a contributor to a winning team.

The Big Scramble.

THIS southeastern open, played over the two fine courses at Augusta, two of the best courses in the country, has assembled a fine field for it is the last big shot of the long hike.

It is the last chance to establish a leading name among the pros.

So far the scramble has been a dizzy one. I talked with most of the leaders today and they admitted that the job of trying to steal a lap on the field had been an impossible task. There has been only one Bobby Jones. George Von Elm and John Golden got the jump in the far west. Abe Espinosa took the lead in Texas. Gene Sarazen had the better of the Florida arguments, but Joe Turnesa and Whiffy Cox, who tied in the Florida open at Jacksonville, tied again in the north and south at Pinehurst, and this time Whiffy, the name of Brooklyn, won out. Whiffy has been too fine a golfer to be stopped indefinitely. He is a gay, light-hearted, easy-going competitor who doesn't take his golf too seriously, but he has a fine golf swing and a golfing disposition that will carry him a long way.

The Rampant Golfer.

GENE SARAZEN is the one who believes he can take over the Bobby Jones toga and wear it comfortably. Gene is the golfer who led Jones by a stroke at Shokie in 1922, just nine years ago. This spring he has come back with a wild rush. He won the $15,000 La Gorce open by finishing with a 66. He had the unique distinction of being three strokes back of the brilliant Tommy Armour, with only 18 holes left, and then picking up six strokes on Armour in the first nine holes of the last round. Any one who can pick up six strokes on Armour in nine can move along the ground. Sarazen has been hitting the ball better than he ever did before.

He is still young and strong and bulging with confidence. If he can win this last big tournament he believes it will start him out upon his biggest year. It was from Augusta that Bobby Jones started his last great cleanup. And it was in this same tournament that Bobby played the greatest game of his life, which he admits. At one stretch he played 23 consecutive holes at under par and these two courses here are both magnificent tests in every detail of golf.

Sarazen is a hunch that if he can win this same tournament he also will be off and away after the manner of a bounding gazelle.

But, as Craig Wood puts it, there are just 20 good enough to win any one of these tournaments now.

Two Extremes.

TWO of the extremes here at Augusta are Walter Hagen and Horton Smith. This is Hagen's nineteenth campaign. It is Smith's third.

Both have had hard sledding this year, but where Horton Smith is undoubtedly worried over his showing and what has happened to his game, Hagen doesn't seem to care a rap. As a rule, it is the veteran who is fretting and worrying and the younger star who isn't. Hagen happens to have a rare philosophy.

Horton Smith isn't showing his inward feelings. He is still apparently cheerful, but you can see that he is pretty well steamed up about the big change. It is a hard rap to win 12 or 14 tournaments at 20 and to win none at all when one is 22.

But that happens to be the way of sport, or one of the ways. Few can tell what tomorrow will bring forth, much less next week or next year.

TINY ROEBUCK MEETS HARPER IN MAT BATTLE

Crown Threats Clash Tonight; Paxos, Middlekauff Open Card.

Two youngsters in the front rank of the up-and-coming brigade of wrestlers which has arisen in the past year to challenge the reign of Jimmy Londos, current champion, are to swap tortures in the auditorium ring tonight when Tiny Roebuck, mammoth Cherokee Indian, engages Paul Harper, the sleek collegian from Texas. This will be the main event, a two-hour limit affair, on a promising card which brings together in the one-hour semi-windup two other performers popular here, John Paxos and Bill Middlekauff, the latter a former star fullback at the University of Florida. The legalized mayhem will begin promptly at 8:15. Promoter Weier announces, with a brief preliminary between two local boys.

Interest in Roebuck's second Atlanta appearance has been marked, judging by the ever-reliable barometer of box office sales. The husky aborigine made a great hit in his first match here several weeks ago when he outroughed and pinned Tom Martin, rival Red Man, using his 240 pounds to good advantage against his lighter opponent, but at the same time revealing plenty of skill during those rare interludes when both men resorted to straight wrestling.

In fact, Tiny made such a favorable impression in that match that Weber signed him to meet George Zaharias here in a later bout; but the Indian suffered an attack of pine-maine poisoning which compelled him to cancel his appearance here, much to the fans' disappointment. They are welcoming the chance to see him again, especially against an opponent of such high caliber as Paul Harper, who has never failed to give satisfaction in his many local showings.

The Texan is young, fast as a commuter after the last train, and so proficient in the scientific end of the sport that he never has occasion to resort to questionable tactics. Only last week he wrestled a sizzling one-hour draw with Paxos, and in his last previous match here gave a splendid account of himself against Londos. Roebuck, on account of his superior weight and marvelous endurance, will be a slight favorite to win tonight, but a victory for Harper would be far from an upset.

It will be interesting, too, to observe the vastly improved Paxos in his bout with Middlekauff. The Greek Adonis polished off Milo Steinborn with ease here not long ago, and held his own with Harper last week. He is coming fast, but is likely to run into a snag when he takes on the rough and ready Middlekauff. The ex-fighter has depended largely on a particularly unpleasant (to his opponents) flying tackle in winning most of the matches in his brief mat career, but will have to call upon other resources tonight. He avows, however, that he has another trick in his bag which is apt to come as a painful surprise to his Greek foe.

Tickets are on sale at the Candler building soda fountain and at the Piedmont Hatters. Ladies will be admitted, as usual, to any seat in the auditorium for $1.

SONNENBERG WINS.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 30.—(P)—Gus Sonnenberg, Boston heavyweight wrestler, scored two falls out of three to defeat Andy Brown, Brooklyn, at convention hall tonight. Sonnenberg weighed 205; Brown 200.

MADE LONG TRIP.

Fay Thomas, Cleveland pitcher, has played with Toledo, the Giants, Buffalo, Oklahoma City, the Yankees, Baltimore, New Haven and Sacramento since 1926.

Charley Frank took away from Camp Gordon in 1919 to win a pennant. Of course "Mule" Haas, not many yards away from the Cracker field, was a hero. And Joe Palmisano, once a Tech catcher, earned a big hand when he went in to catch for Mickey Cochrane. The Red Barnes started the Crackers off in the first by drawing a walk. He stole second as Jack Sheehan fanned, and scored on Tait's single. The champions tied it in their fourth when Haas and Cochrane singled in order and Robert Johnson lifted a long fly to Tait.

What the Market Did

BY JOHN L. COOLEY.

NEW YORK, March 30.—(P)—

Stocks were under pressure during the greater part of today's market, but the decline was much less lively than Saturday's and was broken by two or three attempts at a technical rally.

Final prices represented net losses of a fraction to about 2 points for a majority of the leading issues; a few stocks closed higher. Sales totaled

3,200,000 shares.

At their lowest quotations such stal-

warts as United States Steel, American Telephone, General Electric and General Motors were only down a point or two, American Can and

Bethlehem Steel were steady, and other prominent industrial issues were in a narrow trading range. Utilities as a group were soft, and the rails offered little encouragement. Pennsylvania made a new low. Woodworth rali-ed nearly two points, presumably in anticipation of a favorable March sales statement. It has also been reported that the dividend would be increased.

Shares off at least a point net included United States Steel, Westinghouse, Standard Oil of New Jersey,

Eastman Kodak, Southern Railway,

Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate, Consolidated Gas, United Fruit, and American & Foreign Power. Atlantic

Coast Line established a new low, while Allied Chemical dropped several points to the lowest quotation since 1927.

Wheat closed higher in sympathy with a rally in Winnipeg and in response to reports of European buying,

but earlier prices on some wheat were around last week's lows. Corn also rallied, closing virtually unchanged.

Cotton lost 5 to 9 points. The bond market again suggested although the outstanding losses were in second grade issues, particularly rails.

Weekly trade reviews repeated warnings that business recovery would be irregular and that too much could not be expected of stocks. A decline in steel industry figures, the Youngstown district led to the assumption that output for the industry as a whole might be slack this week, and there was also talk of lower automobile schedules. On the other hand, a favorable nature was the Sears-Robuck sales report, showing a loss of 8.8 per cent for the third four-week period compared with 12 per cent decline for the entire first 12 weeks of 1931.

Foreign exchanges tended to ease,

although recessions were little mentioned. Sterling was firm. The drop of half a cent in bar silver here caused some loss in far eastern markets.
